Hunt 6 U.S. Fliers, Bomber Missing North Of Russia

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A far-ranging hunt over icy northern waters was under way Saturday for six American fliers missing north of the Soviet Union in a reconnaissance bomber. Searchers were aided by daylight around the clock from the midnight sun.

Two American and one Norwegian plane were in the air hours after the plane was reported missing. Between 20 and 25 planes were sent to Norway from as far south as the Azores to scour the Berents Sea. Ships also were on the lookout.

The six-engine jet plane last checked in by radio Friday. It was an RB47, a reconnaissance version of the B47 bomber. A Norwegian air force spokesman said it had given its position as about 275 miles north of the Soviet Union's Kola Peninsula and the same distance west of Novaya Zemlya Island, also Soviet territory.

U. S. Air Force spokesmen in Wiesbaden, mindful of how the United States was caught with a false story of a weather mission in the U2 spy plane incident, were tight-lipped on the possibility of any misadventures to the RB47 at Soviet hands.

Officials in Washington said the plane was making a survey to provide information for more accurate maps.

A spokesman at U. S. Air Force European headquarters said the search was conducted north of Norway.

Illinois Has Low Death Toll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The holiday death count in Illinois mounted slowly as the long Independence Day weekend passed the 26-hour mark.

By 8 p.m. Saturday three traffic deaths and five drownings had been reported.

The victims: Georgia Vinson, who was killed when an automobile struck a pole in Chicago Saturday.

John T. Lookabaugh of Crawfordville, Ind., who was injured fatally when two automobiles collided near Edwardsville Saturday.

Steven Smith, 15, of Colchester, who drowned in a farm pond Friday evening.

R. C. Jones of Lemont, who lost his life in a two-car collision near Elmhurst Saturday.

Mark J. Miller, 31, and James M. Ray, 21, both of Chicago, who drowned while skin diving Saturday in Lake Michigan.

Frank Sept, 29, Harvey, Ill., who drowned in Lake Michigan while trying to swim to shore from a cabin cruiser floating off Chicago's 98th St. beach.

John J. Hedl, 45, Chicago, who drowned Saturday when he fell from his boat in Chicago's Monroe St. Harbor.

Major War 'Unthinkable' Holiday Fatalities Climbing

VIENNA, Austria (AP) —

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared Saturday night another major war is unthinkable because it would destroy a world made small and vulnerable by nuclear weapons and rockets.

In a speech before the Austro-Soviet Society, Khrushchev disavowed the Leninist theory that the triumph of communism could only be achieved through conflict with capitalism.

"We don't want to push solving the question of capitalism versus communism through a war because all would be lost," he said. "What would war mean at the present time now that we have atomic bombs and rockets?"

"Everything would be destroyed. The few people who would survive would vanish because of horrible radiation."

The Kremlin leader departed from his prepared text to say that another war would destroy the world.

In his speech he charged that American planes remain deployed and ready to resume spy missions over the Soviet Union despite the U2 incident.

The Kremlin leader congratulated Austria for following a neutral foreign policy and there- by keeping its towns and villages free from the "thundering noise of military planes." Austria would have been "in deadly danger," he said, if this country had allowed the United States to use Austrian territory for espionage flights.

The Austro-Soviet Society is a private body which includes Conservative Chancellor Julius Raab among its members. The meeting, in massive Hofburg Palace, climaxed the third day of Khrushchev's nine-day state visit.

Khrushchev's denunciation of American defense policies came while an Arctic search was in progress for a missing U.S. Air Force reconnaissance bomber. The plane, on a mission over northern Norway, last was heard from over the frigid Barents Sea about 275 miles north of the Soviet Union's Kola Peninsula. A Defense Department official in Washington said the plane was not engaged in a deliberate attempt to fly over Soviet territory since all such missions were halted after the U2 was downed in the Soviet Union May 1.

Khrushchev repeated his contention the U2 incident had made it impossible for him to negotiate with the Americans at the Paris summit conference in May since he had no more to offer.

Congress Leaves Four Major Issues For August Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress got ready Saturday to quit work during the national political conventions and leave four major domestic issues for final action in a politically charged August session.

The key questions put aside until next month are medical care for the aged, minimum wage law changes, federal aid to education and housing.

Both Senate and House tackled stacks of minor bills during the final day.

A tentative agreement was reached to adopt an adjournment resolution under which the Senate would return to work after five weeks, on Aug. 8, and the House a week later, on Aug. 15.

This was in recognition of two facts of life: 1. The Senate has unlimited debate and so usually spends more time getting its work done and 2. all House members are up for re-election this fall while only one-third of the senators' terms expire.

REPORT MYSTERIOUS LIGHT IN ILLINOIS SKY EARLY SATURDAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Persons in three areas of the state, separated by as much as 200 miles, reported that the Illinois sky was visited by a mysterious light about 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

A motorist, Bob Krebber of Mount Vernon, driving southeast of McLeansboro reported an eerie green light moving in a northeasterly direction.

A young couple spotted a similar light at about the same time, 200 miles to the north at Home-wood. This time the light was orange.

In Galesburg, Dean Hertenstein reported seeing a light that appeared green at first and later red. Hertenstein said it appeared similar to an aerial bomb or a skyrocket.

Questions Whether Kennedy Is 'Quite Ready' For Presidency

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) —

Former President Harry S. Truman said Saturday the forthcoming Democratic National Convention looks like a "prearranged affair" and urged Sen. John F. Kennedy to be patient in his bid for the presidency.

Truman told a nationally televised press conference he will not attend the Democratic National Convention opening July 11 at Los Angeles "because I have no desire whatever to be a party to proceedings that are taking on the aspects of a prearranged affair."

Truman had some nice things to say about Kennedy, currently the front-runner for the nomination, but then addressed some remarks specifically to the 42-year-old Massachusetts senator.

"Senator, are you certain that you are quite ready for the country or that the country is ready for you in the role of president in January, 1961?" he asked. "I have no doubts about the political heights to which you are destined to rise."

"But I am deeply concerned and troubled about the situation we are up against in the world now and in the immediate future. That is why I would hope that some one with the greatest possible maturity and experience would be available at this time. May I urge you to be patient?"

In Los Angeles aides of Sen. Kennedy promptly said he would demand equal air time to answer Truman. Kennedy himself had no comment.

Kennedy himself, at his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, declined to comment immediately on Truman's query as to whether he is "quite ready" for the White House. When a newsman pressed him as to whether he would reply eventually, Kennedy said, "Naturally."

Gene Fowler Dies: Newspaperman, Screen Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Fowler, 70, famed newspaperman, screen writer and novelist, died Saturday.

His personal physician, Dr. Frank Nolan, said Fowler suffered a heart attack at his West Los Angeles home and died minutes later.

Nolan said Fowler had been in good health for the past year. Just before the seizure, Fowler told his wife, Agnes: "I have some pains in my chest—maybe indigestion or something."

Fowler had been away from home earlier in the day, visiting his sons Gene Jr. and Will.

Will was with him at his death. Fowler, whose works included the celebrated "Good Night, Sweet Prince," a biography of John Barrymore, lived in relative seclusion in recent years.

He was working on another book at his death. It was about the newspaperman of the 20s.

Dr. Nolan said he had ordered Fowler not to exert himself and the author had apparently followed instructions. "He was a good patient," Nolan said.

TEN PER CENT CEREAL IN WORLD DESTROYED BY RATS

ROME (AP) — Rats, insects, and fungi destroyed 10 per cent of the total world cereal grain production annually, the Food and Agriculture Organization reports. This is roughly 75% million tons. FAO figures that would feed 225 million people 800 grams a day for a year.

Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, who will be permanent chairman of the convention and who was mentioned by Truman as one of several who should be considered as possible candidates, denied the convention is rigged.

Collins said in Los Angeles that such charges are "completely without foundation."

Paul Butler, national Democratic chairman, also has denied the rigging charge.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader and now considered as running second behind Kennedy in the pre-convention presidential sweepstakes, said in Washington that all delegates should have the opportunity to make a Democratic choice of their candidates.

Truman, who is backing his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, for the nomination, named Johnson in his list of possible candidates, saying the Texan had "grown in skill and esteem in his service to the nation and the party."

The former president declined to detail his reasons why he thinks the convention is taking on the aspects of a prearranged affair.

Sugar Legislation Ties Up Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Saturday night abandoned hopes for pre-convention adjournment and scheduled legislation for next Monday, July 4.

Majority leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass) told the House it was apparent Congress would have to be in session next week because of a snag over sugar quota legislation.

There was a slim chance, however, that a compromise could be worked out on the sugar bill which might cause another change in plans.

At 11:15 p.m. EDT the House took an indefinite recess but members were told to remain nearby on the off-chance that the convention adjournment could be taken Sunday morning.

The Senate, which had been in temporary recess, resumed its session at 11:11 p.m. EDT.

The Senate had been standing in recess for over three hours waiting for the leaders to try to work out a solution of the sugar bill dispute.

One other measure was waiting to be handled before adjournment, a compromise money bill, but agreement had been reached on this.

President Eisenhower was reported to have sent word to House Democratic leaders that he will call Congress into special session Tuesday if it adjourns Saturday night without passing a sugar bill.

The Senate and the House were locked in dispute over rival measures to give the President discretionary authority to curb sugar imports from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.

This was the chief stumbling block standing in the way of plans of congressional leaders to adjourn Saturday night until next month after the national political conventions.

A Senate source, unwilling to be quoted by name, told newsmen that two White House aides and an emissary from the State Department had been sent to Capitol Hill to inform leaders of the President's position.

He told reporters they could be sure that the information he gave them was "very authentic."

At the time the Senate was standing in recess while waiting for the dispute over the sugar legislation to be resolved and for agreement to be reached on a catch-all appropriation bill.

The House also was temporarily in recess.

White House and Senate managers of the legislation met informally, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck said on the Negro Girl From Ohio Seeks Title 'Miss Universe'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The first American Negro girl to compete in the Miss Universe contest will represent Ohio in this year's pageant which began Saturday.

Contest officials said there have been Negro girls from Madagascar and Martinique in past pageants but Corinne Huff, 19, of Youngstown will be the first American of her race to compete.

She has not yet arrived but will be welcome so long as she meets pageant requirements, said Herb London, director of press information.

"This is Miss Universe — open to all creeds, colors and nations," London said.

Miss Huff will be among late arrivals because she was first alternate from Ohio and substitutes for Cathy Justice of Poland, Ohio, who arrived to represent her state but was found to be only 17 and ineligible. Girls must be 18 by July 1 to be eligible.

Eichmann Persecution Of The Jews Documented
Nazi Horror Story Of 6 Million Dead
One Of Many Told In London LibraryBy TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LONDON—(NEA)—"Our library is a chamber of horrors," the librarian warns. "Here you will find yourself wading ankle-deep in blood."

Despite the librarian's warning, one is not prepared for the nightmares he finds on the bookshelves of the Wiener Library, which was founded in Amsterdam in 1934. It is now housed in a modest graystone building in central London.

The Wiener Library, with its 50,000 volumes, is Europe's chief collection of life in Hitler Germany and the early history of the Nazi party. It contains plentiful details of the unsavory career of Adolf Eichmann, the Gestapo officer who will stand trial in Israel for crimes against humanity.
Eichmann is said to be responsible for the murder of six million Jews. His recent capture by Israeli agents is still shrouded in mystery.

In a few hours' browsing among the library's archives, one finds complete dossiers not only on Eichmann, but on hundreds of other Nazi criminals who are wanted by the West German and Israeli governments. There are:

- Dozens of affidavits and eyewitness accounts of concentration camp atrocities, some of which may be used against Eichmann in his forthcoming trial.
- Piles of photographs of Nazi gas chambers and their victims piled like cordwood in the yards.

- Chancellor Adenauer's name on a secret black list compiled by Heinrich Himmler of enemies he intended to exterminate.
- Editions of Hitler's Mein Kampf printed in 17 languages, including a first edition, a Jubilee edition and a special gift edition for newlyweds.

- Nazi propaganda printed in Braille for the blind and even children's books full of anti-Semitic propaganda in which Jews were pictured as ogres.
- Ever since Eichmann's arrest the Wiener Library has been a beehive of activity with scholars, journalists and foreign embassy officials consulting its archives for the record on the arch Jew-killer.

- Some of the evidence collected on Eichmann goes back to 1933 when he posed in Berlin as a friend of the Jews in order to pump information from them.
- Relentlessly, the dossier traces

FROM THE WIENER FILE, Jews awaited death in concentration camp gas chambers.

Eichmann's rise as head of the Gestapo section charged with the liquidation of the Jews resulting in his creation of the horror camp system of deportations, death wagons, gas chambers and mass shootings.

One report advances the theory that Eichmann's hatred of the Jews stems from the fact that he, himself, has a Semitic appearance and was once commonly mistaken for a Jew. The dossiers have been built up painstakingly over the years by press cuttings and reports from agents in a dozen different countries.

When Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is reported in a Latin American country, or on the streets of Cairo, an agent investigates and his report goes into Bormann's file.

"We, ourselves, believe that Bormann is dead," says Isaac Wolf, who has been librarian of the Wiener collection for 20 years. "We believe that he perished in Hitler's bunker. Still, there is just a chance that he may be alive."

The Wiener Library, itself, is non-political. It is not a police agency but crime investigators, among others, make use of its files.

The library was founded in Amsterdam in 1934 by Dr. Alfred Wien-

Boyle Celebrates Fourth By Touching Off Startling Facts

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Tip to fatties: George Washington, known as the best horseman of his age, kept his figure trim by riding. Although he stood 6-foot-3½, measurements of the black velvet suit he wore at his second inauguration indicate that at 61 Washington still had a tidy size 35 waist.

If you really want to impress your girl friend, for $250 you can get a pilot to skywrite "I love you, baby." There are said to be only half a dozen active skywriters left in this country, and their usual charge is $15 a letter.

There's still more truth than poetry in the way Manhattan Island got its name. It derives from the Delaware Indian word Manahach-tanienk, meaning "The place where we got drunk."

Tourists are always giving a town a bad name.
Speaking of Indians and liquor, the Aztecs had a simple old-fashioned remedy for drunkenness that never failed to work. Anyone who got intoxicated except at a trial ceremony was promptly executed.

Definition of the week: Robert Q. Lewis defines an optimist as a middle-aged man who believes the laundry has been shrinking the waistband of his summer trousers.

One reason European school children often seem more advanced than American children of the same age: They go to classes 240 days a year, compared to 180 days for the average U.S. child.

It's no wonder women have most of the money. The word money comes from Juno Moneta, wife of Jupiter, the Roman god.

Genius is often modest. When Dr. Albert Einstein, one of the world's great thinkers, was asked what salary he wanted at the Institute of Higher Learning, he suggested $3,000 a year—explaining he doubted if he could get by on less. Instead he was granted $16,000 a year, and his pay remained at that figure until his death—an amount some comedians make in a single week at Las Vegas.

Those good old days: In 1907 a "well-dressed workman" paid $5 for an overcoat, $10 for a suit, $1 for a hat or cap and 50 cents for four neckties.

It was Charles Dickens who observed, "What we've got to do, is to keep up our spirits, and be neighborly. We shall come out all right in the end, never fear."

Man Covered By Cave-In; Escapes Serious Injury

City firemen were called at 4:12 p.m. Friday to take a rescuistator to the 1200 block of West Walnut where a cave-in had occurred.

Junior Henry of Woodson was caught and completely covered in the bottom of the ditch which he was helping to dig. After workers had managed to get the dirt from around his head and a portion of his chest the side of the ditch again caved in, covering Henry a second time.

The second attempt to free Henry was successful and, after being removed from the ditch, he was taken to Passavant Hospital. Henry was not injured seriously and was not admitted as a patient.

False Alarm
At 8:18 p.m. firemen were called to the Limerick Finance Co. in the 300 block of West State street. An alarm had been turned in when a boy went into the office to clean up and found it full of smoke.

However, it turned out to be a false alarm. The smoke had been caused by a bug bomb being burned in the back of the building.

City police officers assisted at the scene of both alarms.

Three Teaching Vacancies Filled In Greene County

CARROLLTON—Mrs. Hugo Strickland, Carrollton, and David R. Evey of Auburn are the new teachers in the Carrollton school system and Mrs. Mildred Hoots, teacher of the 7th and 8th grades in Eldred, who had resigned has reconsidered her resignation and will teach again next year in the Eldred school.

Mrs. Strickland will replace Mrs. Paul Bales as vocal instructor at the elementary level in the school.

Mrs. Strickland is the former Donna McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDonald of this city and is a graduate in the local high school class of 1950. She completed her undergraduate work at Lawrence College and was employed as an elementary vocal instructor in the LaGrange School system for five years.

Evey will teach Social Studies I and Spanish I and II and is replacing Arnold Sebastian, who resigned to teach Spanish in the Cahokia Elementary Schools. Evey is a graduate of the Auburn High School, Springfield Junior College and the University of Illinois and is enrolled in the summer term this year at the University of Illinois in post graduate study.

There are still two vacancies in the local school. Mrs. Mary Gimmy has resigned as teacher of the Special Education class to accept a position in the Greenfield Community School Unit. Mr. Donald Bell has resigned as Science instructor in the local High School and will teach mathematics in the Jerseyville Community School Unit.

BREATHER?—Actor Paul Newman selects an unusual way to escape the noonday sun on Cyprus. He's on the Mediterranean island making the motion picture "Exodus."

Chang and Eng, the original Siamese twins, were born in 1811 at Meklong, Thailand.

A large number of Democratic officials will be present.

In the group will be Paul H. Douglas, U. S. Senator; Samuel Shapiro, candidate for Lt. Governor; William Clark, candidate for Attorney General and Michael J. Howlett, candidate for auditor of Public Accounts. Present from the 20th District will be Montgomery B. Carroll, candidate for United States representative and Senator James O. Monroe of the Illinois State Senate.

Further information concerning the celebration will be announced as plans are completed. Roy Williams is the chairman of the Greene County Democratic Central committee and is in charge of plans for the 100th birthday celebration.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home
by Edna C. Gustine

LET'S PAMPER 'YOU'
If there is one area in the home that should be planned to pamper you, it is your own bedroom. This is, or at least should be, the most personal room in the house... and it will serve you best if it is planned to pamper your own special personal brand of comfort — cater to your particular tastes in beauty and color. Sleep is not to be taken lightly, for deep, restorative sleep is one of nature's friendly allies. Many of us are not fortunate enough to drop into deep slumber immediately upon retiring. We must court sleep. If this is the case with you, you'll find your bedroom to be simple, luxurious, restful and unobtrusive in color scheme and decor. And you'll want to provide for having everything around you that you might possibly want during the night. The bedroom sketched was planned with these "sleep enticements" in mind. The rich tones of the natural wood walls are restful. The generously proportioned bed with its companion headboard invites luxurious relaxation. Wall-to-wall textured carpet (sea-foam green) gives a snug, warm feeling to the room. Note how the absence of distracting clutter adds elegant simplicity and restfulness to the room. You'll find quality craftsmanship and superb design in all the must court sleep. And that's not all! You'll find friendliness and understanding here... and a sincere desire to help you find just what you want at the price you want to pay. See us today!

Morgan-Scott Sends Hogs To Haiti

Twenty-six persons gathered at the Roland and Robert Reid farm northeast of Winchester Friday afternoon to dedicate a shipment of 32 gilts and boars to be sent to agricultural youths of Haiti. The hogs, purebred Durocs and Poland Chinas, are the gift of Morgan and Scott county people working through the Christian Rural Overseas Program. The assistant farm advisers of Morgan and Scott counties, Bob Hayward and Bob Coffman, were in charge of the proceedings.

Shown in the photo above, with some of the hogs in the background, are Tom Lashmeit, 17, Scott county 4-H youth, who will accompany the hogs to Port au Prince; Rev. Crawford Harmon, pastor of Winchester Christian church, and Willett Pierce, Winchester vocational agriculture instructor, who will help convey the prized hogs to Haiti, by truck to St. Louis, Petersburg, Fla., and then by plane to Port au Prince.

Miss Hazel Graves, Morgan-Scott home adviser, told of her experiences in Haiti, which she visited last May. She told her auditors, "I hope we are doing the right thing by sending this gift to them, because they are so very poor. Yet, they are so ignorant and arrogant, that perhaps nothing we can do will help them."

Rev. Elvin Prantz, of Springfield, secretary of Illinois CROP, was present and spoke on some of the long-range plans of the organization.

Woman Keeps Watch On River At Grafton

JERSEYVILLE — The stages of the river in the Grafton vicinity are kept and reported daily to the U. S. Weather Bureau in St. Louis by a Grafton woman. For the past twelve years, Mrs. Imogene DeScheria has made a daily reading of the river stage and reported the same.

During the summer weather, she takes the river stage reading from a long concrete slab that extends from the bank into the river. During high water when the river raises above the concrete slab, it is necessary for Mrs. DeScheria to obtain her readings from the Grafton Boat Works from the east end of the main building there.

During winter when ice and snow are to be reckoned with the task assumes considerable proportions. Snow must be shoveled from the slab and ice creaked away to obtain the reading.

Mrs. DeScheria keeps a rain gauge in her back yard to measure the precipitation and she also measures the snowfall and melts certain measured amounts to determine the exact amount of precipitation.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Young people, with their urge to band together and conform, like rock 'n' roll music because it gives them "something in common to cling to," says the Rev. C. L. Bass, a Baptist composer and minister. "I think church music could become the common band that binds young people together as much as rock 'n' roll. The main reason it hasn't is a shortage of enthusiastic choir directors."

EXPLAINS INVALID MARKER

Edward Breakville, representing the local fire department, explains the use of the invalid marker now available for homes in Jacksonville to Miss Evelyn Dugger (seated) and Mrs. Ethel Chapman of the Morgan County Health Department. The photograph was taken Saturday afternoon while Breakville was installing one of the markers at the Meline Nursing Home.

To date twenty-five requests for the free safety markers have been received at the local fire department. Sponsored by the local Scroptimist club, the stickers designed to aid rescuers in case of emergencies are free to all residents. Requests should be made to the fire department (CH 5-6101 non-fire phone only). Members of the department will install the markers on Thursdays of each week.

Princess Margaret's Seat Taken
By A Cousin, Princess Alexandra

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON—(NEA) — While Princess Margaret has been playing on her Caribbean honeymoon, the "Palace old guard," who disapproved of her marriage to a commoner, have been working on behalf of her 23-year-old cousin, Princess Alexandra.

So Princess Margaret will find that she has fewer public engagements than before. Until she goes on vacation at the end of next month, the princess has nothing more important than a few Girl Guides' rallies scheduled.

Meanwhile Princess Alexandra has taken over duties that usually fall to Princess Margaret. This month, the attractive daughter of the Duchess of Kent launched the first British guided missile destroyer, the 30 million dollar HMS Devonshire.

In September, she will travel to Nigeria as the Queen's personal representative at the independence celebrations.

Princess Alexandra's big buildup as successor to Princess Margaret in the public eye started last year. She was sent on a 35,000-mile tour of Australia, her first major royal assignment.

Then she launched the 40,000-ton Oriana, Britain's largest passenger liner built since World War II. The princess was guest of honor at a luncheon party which included the Duke of Edinburgh and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester.

And it was Princess Alexandra who was chosen godmother of the Queen's infant son, Prince Andrew. While Princess Margaret takes it easy in July, Princess Alexandra will be busy traveling to Germany to visit the 2nd Battalion of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada. She is the outfit's Colonel-in-Chief. Although she does not yet match the chic and elegance of her mother, one of the best dressed women in the world, Princess Alexandra is attractive enough to be considered Britain's most eligible spinster now that her cousin is married.

ALEXANDRA: Britain's most eligible spinster.

The princess' name has been linked romantically with Crown Prince Harald of Norway but friends are squelching rumors of a forthcoming engagement.

Aside from keeping up in the royal whirl, "Alex," (to her friends), also shows ability to meet the public on its own level. She can, and has, accidentally sat on a high silk hat at a royal function and come out the winner by holding the crushed topper on high for all to see. The princess apparently thought nothing of inviting six young "commoner" farmers to a royal ball.

So while Princess Margaret seemed to have earned a dual triumph as Her Royal Highness and Mrs. Armstrong-Jones, enjoying the best of both royal and "common" worlds at the time of her wedding, some are now wondering if "by spurning the rules, she has at least half shut the door on such magical worlds."

If she has, Princess Alexandra seems ready to step in and fill the gap left by her cousin in one world or the other.

Jamra Goodall
Bride In Home
Ceremony

WHITE HALL.—An evening ceremony united Jamra Ariene Goodall and Richard Lee McCormick in marriage June 24 at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Ruth Nicklin performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodall and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln McCormick, all of White Hall.

Attendants to the couple were Mr. and Mrs. William Goodall. Mrs. Goodall wore a lavender gown.

The bride was dressed in blue chiffon and a corsage of pink and white roses. For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a blue rayon with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a beige linen with white accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Assisting were mothers of the bride and groom and Mrs. Gordon Brannan, aunt of the bride.

Mary-Martha
Circle Holds
June Meeting

CHAPIN.—The regular meeting of the Mary-Martha Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Chapin was held June 30 in the church basement.

The meeting was opened with the hymn, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," accompanied by Edo Eckhoff. Pastor Marvin Matzke read the scripture reading, Philippians 2:1-10, and offered the prayer.

Mrs. Russel Werries and Mrs. John Schroeder, delegates to the convention in East Peoria, gave a report on the convention.

Thirty-two members answered roll call with the payment of dues. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved; they also gave their yearly reports as did the standing committee chairmen: program, altar, Sunshine, membership, disbursements, coupons and Passavant Coffee Shop.

Mrs. Alpha Nergenh became a new member of the circle.

Newly appointed committees for the coming year were announced as follows: program—Mrs. Gladys Tappenbeck, Mrs. Anna LaKamp and Mrs. Rachel Long; Sunshine—Mrs. Florence Nienhiser, Mrs. Clara Nienhiser and Mrs. Martha Schone; membership—Mrs. Beulah Schumacher, Mrs. Marjorie Schone and Mrs. Flora Fricke; altar—Mrs. Marie Tiemann, Mrs. Emma Staake and Mrs. Ruth Boeks; coupons—Mrs. Ada Schumacher; disbursements—Mrs. Marjorie Staake; Passavant Coffee Shop—Mrs. Virginia Werries.

Mrs. Gladys Tappenbeck, program chairman, announced that the July meeting would be Children's Day and the hostesses would be Lorna Fricke, Marie Tiemann, Edna Middendorf and Flora Fricke; entertainment committee—Marjorie Schone, Helen Schone, Myra Nickel and Mildred Fricke.

The meeting closed with the hymn, "Christ, Thou Art the Sure Foundation," and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Esther Nienhiser, Esther Bergth and Olga Werries were in charge of the social hour. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses: Anna Umken, Beulah Schumacher and Martha Schone.

Guests were Mrs. Nelson Watson, Mrs. Tillie Schone and Mrs. Fred Fricke.

MERRY MAIDS 4H
CLUB HAS MEETING

Murrayville—Merry Maids 4H club met June 30 at the American Legion Hall according to Diana Garfield, reporter. Mary Andras, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

During the business meeting the local achievement day was discussed. The program consisted of talks by Mary E. Langdon on "Cuts of Meat," Carla Mutch on "Items for Your First Aid Kit," Peggy Turner, "Care for Burns," and Kathy Wright, "Family Fallout Shelter."

Demonstrations were given by Judy Hull, "Bandaging an Arm and Hand," and Diana Garfield, "Baked Pork Chops."

The next meeting will be held July 7 at 2 o'clock at the American Legion Hall according to Mrs. Waldis Beamer and Mrs. E. Wright.

Your Opinion Is As Good As The Next Man's On Rating The 'Top Ten Schools In The Nation'

By GABE KAIMOWITZ
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A high school student beams proudly as he says, "I just got into one of the top 10 universities in the country."

Another is crestfallen. Although he has been accepted by a small university in the Midwest, he was turned down by colleges in the mythical leagues.

As students wait to hear whether they were accepted by a "good" school, the myth of comparative ratings of universities again prevails.

If the truth be known, there are no official ratings and very few unofficial ones, say many college advisory New York public library reader adviser service.

Some periodicals and newspapers, from time to time, attempt to rate schools through student or faculty polls. One of the latest to do so is "Changing Times," which covered a survey of graduate department heads.

The magazine admits that there are no "official" ratings and that it is virtually impossible to rate schools, but says of its own survey, "Although the votes reflect subjective impressions and may not reveal the actual merit of the individual department, this does report the judgment of men whose opinions are most likely to have weight . . . the sum of their opinions is a fairly close approximation of what informed people think."

But subsequently the article hits at the core of one problem: "Often a school's reputation is slow to catch up with a change in quality."

Philip Coombs, program director of education for the Ford Foundation, also doubts the validity of any and all rating systems.

He says, "The real misfortune (in comparing schools, particularly by prospective applicants) is that the typical student and high school guidance counselor do not know of good schools without big reputations.

"The spread between many accredited schools probably is nowhere near as great as one would think from popular impressions."

As for the "top 10 schools in the country," Robert E. Lincoln, executive director, College Admissions Assistance Center in New York City, job.

he would advise any student or parent to write to them if they believe such exist.

Lincoln, himself, shrinks at the thought of naming a school in the "top 10." He says the best any educational institution can do "is advertise the fields it offers, boosting those in which it does a superior job."

However, today, there is no readily accessible, valid way for the student to determine if a university is really the best, or one of the best, in the field in which he is interested.

Some college guides, such as Lovejoy's, do rate groups of schools and their departments on such broad standards as accreditation. (Most four-year colleges known to the public are accredited and consequently would receive a No. 1 rating in this system.)

Despite educators' continual pounding at validity of any comparative evaluation, even their often list criteria on which such ratings might be based.

Some consider the schools' accumulated wealth, number of doctorate degrees offered, published works by faculty members, the size of the school, and student-teacher ratios as some possible ways to determine a school's worth. But here again, it's a matter of opinion.

Despite the debunking of comparative ratings, some educators do admit that there are firms and fields, including their own, which hire on the basis of the school's reputation (rather than the individual's), and which recognize only the alleged "top" universities.

Because of this, students probably will still seek the "top" schools and eventually will be saying that their schools are "rated" third or fourth on an imaginary list of 10 or 20. The educators, much to their regret, agree that this is one legend that is here to stay.

Secret To Success In Africa

British Give Up Ground Gradually

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—In contrast to the violence and anarchy bubbling around Belgian Congo independence, Britain has paved a smooth freedom road for 43 million Nigerians.

The Belgian government, which released the lid on the Congo kettle too rapidly, is likely to reap a whirlwind of violence in the land which is three times the size of Texas. The Congolese simply are not ready for self-government.

The British, on the other hand, have been grooming Nigeria for self-government for two years. When they bow out at the end of September, it will be in an atmosphere of good will.

When Nigerian leaders met with British Colonial Secretary Ian Macleod in May to iron out the bugs in Nigeria's new constitution, the conference ended "like a school prize-giving day," a senior Colonial Office spokesman says.

The British government has agreed to loan 36 million dollars to the new Nigerian government.

How is it that the British seem to order these things better than the Belgians, the French and the Portuguese, the other colonial powers in Africa?

"Gradualism" is the answer given by the Colonial Office. "People accuse us of being too slow in giving the colonies their independence," a senior official declared. "But we make sure they can stand on their own two feet before setting them free."

Gradualism means training Africans as civil servants and government officials. In the Belgian Congo, no African has ever held public office until now.

When the British decided to give Nigeria its independence in 1958, the government immediately took steps to attach Nigerian officers to its embassies in the Commonwealth countries, British relinquish power.

Western Europe, the United States and South America for diplomatic training.

At Nigeria House, which becomes the Nigerian High Commissioner's office Oct. 1, the telephone operator is the only white person. The rest of the staff is made up of black Africans, ready to take over when the British relinquish power.

When the Union Jack is hauled down, and the new Nigerian flag of green and white run up over parliament in Lagos on Oct. 1, it will mark the end of 55 years of British colonial rule over this land with a population greater than that of Canada, Australia and New Zealand combined.

"Nigeria, we hail thee" will be substituted for "God Save the Queen" as Nigeria's national anthem and the British Governor General will cease to attend executive council meetings of the Nigerian government.

Simultaneously, Nigeria will become the newest member of the British Commonwealth.

Strictly speaking, Nigeria is not a nation, but 13 autonomous regions in search of a nation.

In addition to a federal prime minister, there will be three regional premiers. These three men will hold the keys of power. It would be difficult to find three men who contrast more sharply.

The Sardauna of Sokoto, a haughty aristocrat, is premier of 16 million northern Nigerians who are Moslems comprising nearly half Nigeria's population. The Sardauna combines feudal authority with leadership of the mass Northern People's Congress.

Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, better known as Zik, is premier of the Eastern Region, principally inhabited by the lively and go-ahead Ibo tribe. Like Ghana's Kwame Nkrumah, Zik was educated in the United States at Howard University and he has tried to introduce African high-pressure methods into African politics.

Zik's principal rival is 50-year-old Chief Obafemi Awolowo, premier of the Western Region, and head of the Action Group party. Chief Awolowo's followers are chiefly Yoruba tribesmen who claim descent from the kings that dominated West Africa until the 16th Century.

These three, if they work as a team, can transform Nigeria into the bastion of Black Africa, just as South Africa is the stronghold of the whites.

As the Colonial Office mentor explains, "The Nigerians are already on the bridge. The captain is in his day cabin and it remains to be seen how he steers the ship of state."

PAST NOBLE GRANDS
HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC
DESPITE WEATHER

Members of the Morgan County Past Noble Grands club braved inclement weather to hold their annual pot luck picnic supper at Nichols park. The president, Hattie Bostic of Waverly, was in charge of the business session after the supper.

The club voted to send $10 contributions to both the Children's home at Lincoln, Ill., and Old People's Home at Mattoon.

An election of officers resulted as follows:

Ruth Brewer, Franklin, president; Florence Story, Jacksonville, first vice president; Nell Lowe, Waverly, second vice president; Marion UpDeGraff, Jacksonville, secretary; Elizabeth Henderson, Jacksonville, treasurer.

Bingo was the diversion after the business meeting.

HOLD 10TH REUNION

"Moonlight and Roses" was the setting for the 10 year reunion of the Jacksonville High School class of 1950, which was held Saturday, June 25, at the Amvet Hall.

A delicious ham dinner was served to 87 classmates, their husbands, wives, and guests at tables graced by red roses.

Charles Grant, for four years the class president, served as master of ceremonies for the evening and introduced the program, which included words of welcome by Mrs. Erma E. Johnston and Mr. Farrell Patterson, class advisers.

Awards were won by Mrs. Betty Twyford Clayton, most changed girl; Allyn Thompson, most changed boy; Mrs. Susie Deem Seymour, least changed girl; Walter Dieckamp, least changed boy; Russell Heaton, largest family; and Wayne Peterson, who came the farthest distance from California.

A vote of thanks was given this year's reunion committee chairmen, Mrs. Shirley Smith Lewis, Mrs. Elynor McFadden Nergenh, and Mrs. Joann Winstead Frame, and their committee for a job well done. The next reunion will be held in 1965 and will be organized by Miss Marilyn Lacy, Mrs. Pat Hughes Becker, Darrow Steinheimer, and Mrs. Sylvia Plouer Gillespie.

"OH! SAY, CAN YOU SEE.."

The flag which inspired Key during bombardment is now in the U.S. National Museum at Washington.

"The Star-Spangled Banner," theme song of Independence Day, was written in a time of great national crisis. American fortunes in the War of 1812 were at a low ebb. The capital had fallen to the British. Its most important buildings had been burned, and on Sept. 13, 1814, the British fleet was preparing to attack Fort McHenry defending Baltimore.

That day, Francis Scott Key, a Washington lawyer, had gone aboard the British flagship in an effort to secure the release of a friend who had been taken prisoner. Key was not allowed to leave the fleet until the bombardment of the fort was over.

From a small American vessel which had taken him to the flagship, Key watched the shelling through the night. At dawn on September 14 he saw the American flag still waving defiantly over Fort McHenry. At that moment, he said, his heart spoke and he asked himself, "Does not such a country and such defenders of their country deserve a song?"

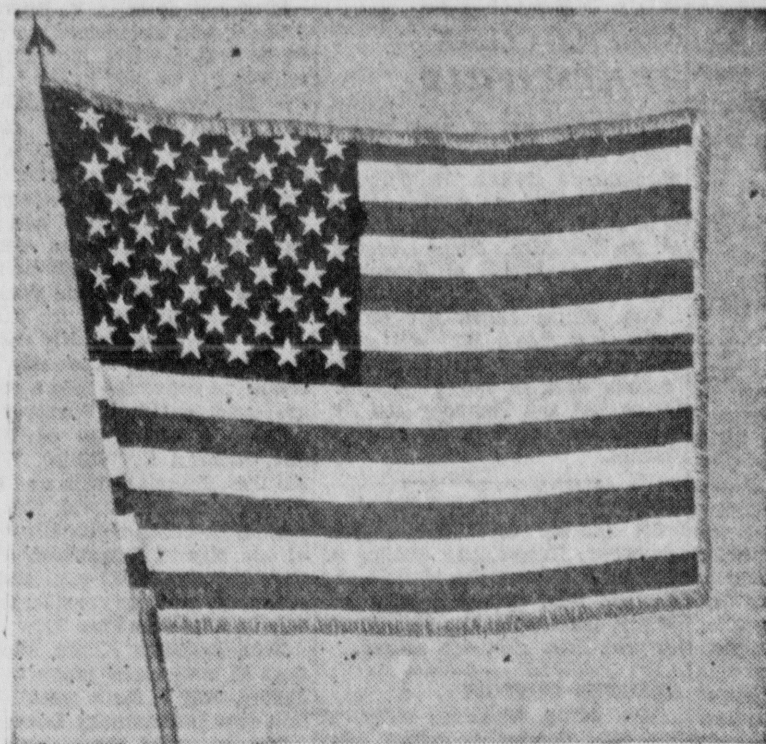

He started to write the first words of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the British ended their attack. On his return to Baltimore, he added lines to his poem. The first dated publication of the poem, under the title, "Defense of Fort McHenry" appeared Sept. 20 in the Baltimore Patriot. Shortly after, the title was changed to "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The popularity of "The Star-Spangled Banner" was immediate. By 1861, it had taken first rank among our national songs, but it was not until 1931 that Congress voted it our national anthem.

Fort McHenry this year takes on added significance. On July 4, the new 50-star flag will be raised there officially for the first time.

By the dawn's early light, Francis Scott Key, top, sees Old Glory still waving over Fort McHenry.

Local Teacher To Tour, Study Mexico

Mrs. Tamar B. Burch, a teacher at South Jacksonville School, departs today by air from New York for a study tour of Mexico sponsored by the National Education Association.

In the group are 25 teachers from various parts of the country. Tour directors will be Carl Moses, assistant professor of political science, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, and James McKegney, assistant professor of Romance languages, Waterloo Lutheran University, Ontario, Canada. They will lead group discussions, providing background material on the ancient civilization and modern history of Mexico.

The teachers will visit eight cities in Mexico on the 25-day tour. In Palenque, they will tour the UNESCO school in which students from most South American countries are enrolled. In Mexico City, the teachers will observe kindergarten, primary and secondary classes while in session and will hear a lecture on the educational system of the country. Visits to the Ministry of Education, the University, and an evening reception with Mexican teachers are also planned.

Although the primary purpose of the trip is to enable the teachers to obtain a deeper understanding of the history and culture of Mexico, Paul H. Kinsel, director of the NEA travel service division, said there would be many oppor-

Nixon Camp Now Sets Sights On Election

Vice President, Firing All The Way, Already Has Convention In The Bag

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is winning the easiest Republican nomination fight in 24 years because he took nothing for granted but pressed instead to make his long lead longer.

Not since the days of Herbert Hoover and Alfred M. Landon has a GOP presidential nomination for a non-incumbent been so nearly wrapped up as this one is for Nixon a month before the Chicago convention.

The signal comes now from the Nixon camp itself. They have just turned their attention intensively to planning the fall campaign.

While Democratic contenders pour over delegate figures, Nixon's men are scanning maps to lay out routes for campaign swings, planning how and when to use television.

Nixon strategists don't think they have heard the last of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York. But they look for his impact to be felt largely on issues and platform.

The Vice President entered the 1960 race with great natural advantages: high position, steady access to public attention, the grateful backing of most leaders for his long record of party service, their belief that he was more acceptably "Republican" than Rockefeller.

He also bore one major handicap: the argument that he couldn't win the election because he was "too controversial" to appeal to Democrats and so-called independents.

Nixon set about making unrelenting use of his advantages and striving at the same time to rub out the handicap.

Double good fortune struck him last summer. President Eisenhower sent him to open our fair in Moscow. And there he got into the celebrated "Kitchen debate" with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Nixon's standing in the public opinion polls soared. He passed all Democrats, including Sen. John F. Kennedy, whom he had trailed more than 3 to 2 just before the Moscow encounter.

He held his edge almost until spring and now, on the heels of the Summit collapse, has regained it narrowly over Kennedy.

Today the big break is still exploited to the hilt. A well-prepared Nixon campaign kit bears a back-cover picture showing the Vice President poking a right index finger into Khrushchev's chest. The caption begins: "As I said to Mr. Khrushchev... in Moscow."

To Make Millions

By WARD CANNELL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Boy, some guys have all the luck. Here is this dancer, Nicholas Darvas, who fell into a cool two million dollars in 18 months on the stock market and...

"No, no," Darvas groaned a massive Hungarian groan. "It was not luck. Nobody understands here. I studied, worked, read, planned. It was technical. It was fundamental. But it was not luck."

"Why should I say it was luck when it was not? That is only an American idea—to achieve a great achievement by hard work and sweat and misery and then afterward smile weakly, humbly and say it was only luck."

"American theatrical stars are always smiling weakly and humbly and saying it was only luck. It is enough to make a person ill."

All right. But does that explain how Darvas is climbing on best-seller lists across the country with his book, "How I Made $2,000,000 in the Stock Market"?

"Aha!" Darvas said in Hungarian. Then in English: "That is not luck either. It would be luck if I had written a best-seller called 'How I Lost $2,000,000 in the Stock Market.' But I did not lose it, so why should I write that?"

"And I can tell you why it is a best-seller. It is because many people think the title means 'How You Can Make $2,000,000 in the Stock Market.' I cannot help what people think. I did not invent them. I did not invent the stock market. I am just a person who sees that there is a game being played so I learn the rules and play, too."

"But as for doing what I did? That is something else. Remember: there is nothing more powerful than a man whose time has come."

To the casual observer, hanging around the drugstore until his

NIXON has plenty to smile about

Against Nixon's 1959 upsurge, Rockefeller's challenge wilted in the bud stage. His candidacy could have developed only if he demonstrated a superior hold on broad popular support.

The reverse proved true. While Nixon rose in public esteem, Rockefeller lagged badly in the polls. This left him just one course: to enter the 1960 primaries and fight hard and long to upset the polls' verdict.

Weighing that decision, he made a wind-testing tour of key areas. He ran into an almost solid wall of GOP leader opposition. They wanted no big intra-party fight. Nearly all were unfriendly to his candidacy.

Rockefeller, lacking even a professional nucleus to build on and aware a fight would cost heavily in money and time away from the governorship, bowed out Dec. 26. Nixon had the field alone, with seven months still to go.

Here he might have coasted. He chose to enter primaries, knowing that, though unopposed, he would be measured against President Eisenhower's 1952-56 showings and against Democratic rivals.

His New Hampshire vote surpassed the President's. But the hot Kennedy-Humphrey contest in Wisconsin April 5, drawing Republican crossover votes, pushed Nixon down to a third of the total two-party vote.

The cry of "can't win" suddenly went up again. "Draft Rockefeller" talk developed and Nixon seemed headed for trouble.

A week later the alarm bells were silent. Nixon bested Mr. Eisenhower's vote in Illinois and Rockefeller indicated plainly that he didn't expect to be drafted.

The Vice President poured it on. In following weeks he rang up better-than-Eisenhower totals in Pennsylvania, Indiana and California, plus a startling write-in in Nebraska. His scores beat Kennedy in Indiana and Gov. Edmund G. Brown in California.

Few imagine these results were casual or accidental. In Indiana, Nixon lay back, talked often of Kennedy's advantage as the only campaigner there. Then came a late telephone blitz that helped beat Kennedy by 56,000 votes.

With the triumph over Brown by more than 160,000 the "can't win" argument died. Rockefeller's big blast on "where does Nixon stand?" only solidified the Vice President's support for the nomination.

The last real flurry was over. Words may still fly between now and July 25, but Nixon's delegates—1,000 or more strong—are expected to stay put.

Shirley Vaughn, Chandlerville Teacher, Weds

CHANDLERVILLE — The June wedding of Miss Shirley Jean Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Vaughn of Camden, Ill., and Merle Eugene Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ralston of Rushville, was held at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon at the Camden Methodist church.

Rev. W. C. Glasier of Quincy, former minister at Camden, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar with decorations of baskets of white gladioli, candelabra with white candles and white ribbons on pews reserved for the bride's family and lavender ribbons for the groom's family.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was given by the organist, Miss Margaret Ann Eichenauer of Chandlerville. The guests were seated by the ushers, Gary Dean, friend of the groom of Monmouth, and Franklin Cramm, friend of the groom from East Moline.

Candles were lighted by Danny and Davey Vaughn, nephews of the bride, from Littleton.

During the ceremony, James Phepps of Galesburg, a college friend of the couple, sang with Mrs. Denis Davis as piano accompanist.

Father Escorts Bride
The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned gown with long, tapered sleeves and Sabrina neckline. The fitted bodice was fashioned down the back with tiny covered buttons. The full skirt with lace panels flowed into a chapel train.

A Chantilly lace crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She wore pearl earrings and choker, a gift of the bridegroom. Her bridal bouquet was a lavender orchid with lilies of the valley on top of a white Bible, a gift of the bride's mother, in which was a handkerchief of her mother's.

Couple's Attendants
The attendants were Miss Leveda Trammell, college roommate from Ripley, as maid of honor; Mrs. Maxine Sargent, sister of the bride of Rushville; Mrs. Dorothy Gillenwater, sister of the bride of Rockford; Mrs. Marjorie Force, sister of the groom of Havana; and Sandra Ainsworth, roommate of the bride from Chandlerville.

The bridegroom's attendants were William Boehm, friend of the groom of Springfield, as best man; William Vaughn of Onida, Ill.; Sterling Vaughn of Littleton, Keith and Elton Vaughn, all brothers of the bride, as groomsmen. They all wore black tuxedos and white boutonnieres.

Brenda Vaughn of Camden, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. Gale Vaughn of Camden, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The mothers wore navy blue with white accessories and white carnation corsages.

Shirley Churchill of Canton was in charge of the guestbook.

A reception with 300 guests was held in the Camden school gymnasium with Vida Wese, Imogene Daly, Neil Felch, Cathy Weyer, Dianne Daly and Barbara Williams in charge of the reception.

John Hickey Landed On Train From Air 52 Years Ago Today

ASHLAND — John Hickey of this city will celebrate his 52nd year of flying on July 4th. He made his first balloon ascension on July 4, 1908, from the site on the old White City park, east of Springfield, landing on top of a freight train. When the engineer saw his plight, he stopped the train and helped Mr. Hickey off.

Mr. Hickey will celebrate the event quietly at his home here. He may go to the Capitol Airport in the afternoon.

He has received many letters of congratulation from several flying clubs of which he is a member. On Oct. 18, 1909, he will celebrate his 50th year of flying. A dinner in his honor will be held at the Capitol Airport flight room and a plaque will be presented to him for 50 years as a Pathfinder.

Mr. Hickey said that after October, he will leave flying to the younger pilots and the birds.

Award School Contracts

The Board of Education of Ashland Community School District 212 held its regular meeting for June at the high school. Student achievement tests were reviewed and the possibility of participating in a film library with Morgan and Scott county schools was considered.

The following contracts for 1960-61 school year were awarded: gasolin, Cass County Service; No. 5 fuel oil, Pana Refining; No. 2 fuel oil, Stand and Oil; milk contract to Producers Dairy of Springfield; typewriter maintenance, Davis Office Supply Co. of Jacksonville; adding machine maintenance, Modern Business Machines, Springfield.

A number of applicants were on hand for interviews for the vacancies in the system and payment of bills in the total amount of $8,903.71 was authorized.

General Beach explained to the assembled civic club members and their guests the functions of the paratrooper and the correct use of his equipment. Two sergeants, veterans of some 50 jumps each, demonstrated the procedure for leaving the plane in a jump and showed the functions of a parachute.

Beach explained that Carpenter and several hundred of his buddies survived the weeding-out process of Jump School and managed to complete the five weeks of rough, strenuous airborne training.

The general explained to the group that the 82nd is one of four strategic Army Corps units which maintains alert 24-hours a day. Comprising the STRAC force is the 82nd, 101 Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, Ky., and the Fourth Infantry Division, Fort Lewis, Wash. The fourth member of the group is the First Logistical Command.

Carpenter will receive further training as a "rigger," one of the paratroopers assigned the important task of seeing to the correct packing of parachutes. On July 5, the young paratrooper will leave for Fort Lee, Va., where he will undergo three months of intensive rigging training. At the completion of this airborne school, Carpenter will return to Fort Bragg and his present company.

Carpenter is the husband of the former Karen Gentry of Virginia, Ill.

PLANES WATCH BOATERS

MADISON, Wis. (P) — The Wisconsin Conservation Department is using a loudspeaker from a plane to encourage compliance with the state's new boating laws.

Department-owned planes fly over power boats and occupants are asked to show required life preservers.

"If they have them, they hold them up," an official said. "If they don't, they head for shore to get them."

FAN BREEZES

BY STAN SPOTTS
Journal Courier Sports Editor

THE PRIZE BASS CATCH of the week was a seven-pound beauty taken out of the new lake Saturday morning by Donald Drake of 705 East Chambers. This was the second 'big catch' reported to the Journal Courier this week. Lt. Charles Morris hauled in a 15-pound blue catfish despite the boat dock at the new lake. Drake caught the 24-inch largemouth on an artificial worm and the only identity of the location was 'near an old cottonwood tree.' If these reports aren't enough to lure anglers over the long weekend holiday, then I'm a firecracker!

Congratulations to Mrs. Alden Brown of New Berlin, who won the annual Ladies' Handicap Tournament by defeating runner-up Mrs. Ormond Goodrich on the 21st hole in the final match Friday. Mrs. E. J. Miles won over Miss Betty Hartman in the playoff for third and fourth place honors.

Monday at the Country Club there is a little tournament for the men—that being a best ball foursome. Pro Phil McCormick issued a 'must' Saturday for the Men's Handicap Tournament. The first round must be played on or before July 10. Looking ahead, the Country Club championship will be staged on successive weekends starting July 16-17 and ending July 23-24.

Received a long awaited letter from Dave Cade, where he is counseling at Camp Lincoln this summer in Lake Hubert, Minnesota. To bring you up to date, Cade, who was a student at Jackson County High, survived the final fall out at the University of Illinois in football following the spring drills. In addition to his duties at Lake Hubert, he is finding time to work out on a strict schedule with ball players from Kansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming and other schools. Dave hopes to do more than be just a member of the Illinois squad. He felt last spring was a period of learning and polishing up on fundamentals of the game. He plans to correct some of these weaknesses this summer and move up quite a ways as far as his standing on the team when Pete Elliott begins rigorous drills in September. The final cut narrowed the field from 116 candidates to 50. So, maybe three Jacksonville boys will be representing our city in the Big Ten in 1960-61. The other two are Merritt Norvell at Wisconsin and Dave Bone at Northwestern, the latter being in basketball.

Before we saw Findley and met Tom Coulson, sports editor of the Pike County Republican, John Martin and I took in the Western Illinois Fair at Griggsville and while Martin was getting a few livestock pictures, I kept busy doing the barnyard shuffle. Fair officials seemed just a mite discouraged with all the wet weather they'd been having but when the sun broke through and began drying the track, I sensed a sigh of relief. Being used to the rainy Morgan County Fair each year, Griggsville's mud was old home week to Martin and myself. The track was being worked on and it looked as though it would be fast for the afternoon races. There are still two very fine cards remaining on the harness racing schedule for Sunday and Monday—that is if the prediction of rain fails to materialize. Sunday's lineup is a 24 Pace, 24 Trot, 21 Pace (3-year-olds eligible) and a 2-year-old Trot. Monday's card is a 21 Trot (3-year-olds eligible), Free for all Pace and a Free for all Trot. Post time is 2:30 p.m.

By the way, Coulson, should you see this column I want you to know that I'm as bewildered as you when it comes to getting 500 persons into the Baylis 'Coliseum' for a basketball game. I got a chance to see the converted theatre under the guidance of grade school principal and coach Don Simmons, who played his ball for Pittsfield and Culver Stockton. Baylis has had outstanding basketball teams the past three years and they've been drawing at the gate. Their home gymnasium is a community center for Christmas plays and other events but is used mainly for basketball. The old theatre's ceiling is only about 15 feet (the goal stands 10 feet) and it is possible to shoot from one end of the court if not much arch is applied on the ball. There were four lights, now there are eight due to the prosperity of the team and the out of bounds lines are a foot and a half (just room for the width of a bench) away from the walls at one end and on both sides. There is a little more room at the end where the stage lies. The site has modern eating quarters and over $3,000 has been spent building dressing rooms and showers in the basement which is a nice improvement over the old dressing stalls. The Baylis coach admitted his greatest coaching thrill was winning second in the Griggsville Tournament last year and in order to accommodate the 500 persons they had to use most of the gym floor, which didn't leave much playing space. But the tour will always leave a fond memory in my heart because the name alone always produces a quiet chuckle especially when you think of the Los Angeles Coliseum and the Baylis Coliseum and you realize that they're so far apart.

Paul Findley of Pittsfield, a Republican candidate for Congress, has been handing out a very helpful pocket-size folder entitled "Your Guide To Summer Enjoyment in the 20th Congressional District." I received Paul's permission to use this little guide and he hopes to take in the majority of all the listed events: Guide to Summer Enjoyment

Morgan Saddle Club First In White Hall Parade

The Morgan County Saddle Club came out on top as the winner of the trophy awarded to the best saddle club in the White Hall parade. Competition for the trophy was very tough as there were quite a few entered. This parade was the largest in the history of the White Hall Homecoming and this year was honored with the presence of the governor of the state, the Honorable William G. Stratton.

Governor Stratton viewed the parade from the special reviewing stand and seemed to enjoy the presence of so many beautiful horses. There was over 150 head of horses in the parade and something over 120 stayed on the grounds and entered the horse show held at Lions Park after the parade.

The saddle club members entered the classes in the horse show and came home with more than their share of ribbons and trophies. The winners in the show were: Palomino Class: 1st, George Sturdy; Modesto: 2nd, Darrell Smith, Alexander; Spotted Class: 1st, Martha Wolfe, Jacksonville; Quarter Horse: 2nd, Darrell Smith, Alexander; Pleasure Class: 3rd, Mrs. Everett Mason, Jacksonville; Lady Rider: 1st, Wilma Colclasure; 3rd, Marilyn Smith, Alexander; Best Horse of the Show: Darrell Smith, Alexander.

The club is in the peak of its outdoor season and is very busy with the various activities. On June 19th the club held a joint ride with the Lee Sturdy farm at Modesto. There were 42 riders in attendance and an enjoyable time was had by all. On June 25 and 26 the club had the first of 3 planned Family Campout rides at the new picnic area at Lake Jacksonville.

Over 40 head of horses participated in the riding events and the families of the club members really enjoyed this outing. The next two day campout ride is scheduled for July 23-24 at Siloam Springs State Park near Quincy. The next scheduled ride of the club will be July 10th at the Doyle Taylor farm on Route 104, just west of Passavant Hospital.

Souchak, Littler Share Lead In Flint Open

FLINT, Mich. (P)—Mike Souchak and Gene Littler, two of golf's most spectacular players, boled ahead Saturday in the $25,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament as a tightly packed field reached the halfway mark.

Souchak and Littler mastered par for the second straight day and totaled 139, five under par for the 36 holes. They led Texans Don Janney of Dallas, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, one stroke, January had a 69. Hawkins shot a second straight 70.

Strong play out of the sand traps and a delicate touch on the greens shot Souchak into a share of the lead. He stroked a pair of long birdie putts on the front nine and then shaved a stroke off par on each of the par-5 holes coming home for a 68.

Littler, 30-year-old Californian, followed his opening 69 with a 70 over Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club's course.

The first round leader, Davey Hill, slipped to a 73 and tied Bob Goolby and Mason Rudolph at 141.

Merchants Wrap Up 8-2 Decision Over Florence In Sixth Inning

FLORENCE—The Jacksonville Merchants pushed across four runs in the sixth inning on three hits and an error to annex an 8-2 victory over the Florence nine Saturday afternoon. The win was Jacksonville's fifth against two setbacks and spoiled Florence's opening day July 4 celebration.

The two nines swing back into action Sunday afternoon with the Merchants entertaining Taylorville at Nichols Park in a 2:30 Little League contest. Florence hosts a Brooklyn, Ill., diamond aggregation at 2:30 p.m. also.

single with one out. Gene Farmer filed out for the second putout but Bob Hembrough singled and Mike Scott walked to load the bases before Ezard hit a two-run single. An error on Heaton's fly ball enabled Scott and Ezard to come home for a 7-1 margin after six innings.

Ladies PGA Lead To Louise Suggs

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (P)—Louise Suggs posted the only under par score in a steam-bath second round Saturday to take the lead in the sixth Ladies' PGA National Championship at Sheraton Country Club.

On a sweltering day that saw the first hole-in-one in LPGA history, withdrawal from competition of one top pro and scores generally in the high 70s and 80s, Miss Suggs powered a 2-under-par 72. She went 1-up over the first round leader, Mickey Wright with a 34 on the front nine, 3 under par.

Miss Wright slumped from her 71 of Friday to a 76, going to a 36-hole total of 147 to Miss Suggs' 146.

The defeat before 23,367 dropped the second-place Orioles two games behind the American League-leading New York Yankees, who defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-6.

Luis Aparicio's triple to the left center field fence and Minnie Miñoso's double to the same sector each drove in two runs in the big Chicago fourth inning.

Run-scoring singles also were racked up in that frame by Jim Landis, pinch-hitter Ted Kluszewski and Nellie Fox.

The eruption wiped out a 4-1 Oriole lead built on Gene Stephens' three-run homer in the second and Gene Woodling's run-producing single in the first.

Rookie Chuck Estrada, who was the first of four Oriole pitchers and surrendered seven runs, was tagged with his fourth loss against eight victories.

Chicago manager Al Lopez used six pitchers, with starter Early Wynn being lifted after two innings and his immediate successor, Dick Donovan, receiving credit for his third victory in four decisions.

A MIAMI CAREER
MIAMI, Fla. (P)—John Anderson, who trained here with Baltimore during the spring, is pitching for the Miami Marlins for the fifth season. Last year he had a 12-9 record with Miami. His overall mark for four previous years here was 20-20. Formerly the property of Philadelphia, Anderson is 27.

Cardinals Subdue Milwaukee Third Straight Game, 7-1

ST. LOUIS (P)—Hot-hitting veteran Stan Musial led a 13-hit St. Louis Cardinal assault against an old nemesis, Warren Spahn, as the Redbirds made it three straight over Milwaukee 7-1 Saturday night behind Bob Gibson's six-hitter.

Musial, on an 11-for-19 streak over a five game span, batted in two runs and scored three. His sizzling two-run double in the fifth was the clincher, making it 4-1.

It was the first victory of the season for the fireballing right-hander, a former Harlem Globetrotter basketball player.

Singles by Musial, Daryl Spencer and Hal Smith in the second gave Gibson an early 1-0 edge. But Bill Bruton's single and Johnny Logan's double in the third tied it 1-1. Musial led off the fourth with a walk and eventually scored on an infield out by Gibson.

Curt Flood's single and a walk to Ken Boyer set the stage for Musial's two-run double in the sixth. Bill White then singled home Musial to make it 5-1.

White—usually impotent against left-handers—slugged a triple in the seventh after Ken Boyer's single. Smith's second hit scored White with the final run in the seventh.

Musial, traveling at better than a two-hits-a-game pace, raised his average to .283.

Phillies Nudge Giants In Extra Innings, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Panco Herrera's single scoring Ken Walters gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants in an 11-inning game Saturday night.

Herrera also homered in the second.

Left hander Mike McCormick, who took over in the 11th for southpaw Billy O'Dell, took the rap for the defeat—and made only four pitches. He served up a single to Walters. Then Bobby Gene Smith bunted and both runners were safe on Willie McCovey's error. Herrera hit the southpaw's second pitch into left field and Walters scored with the deciding run.

As a result, Dick Farrell posted his sixth win of the campaign in relief of Johnny Buzhardt. Farrell allowed only one hit in three innings after Buzhardt and O'Dell had engaged in an old-fashioned pitching duel with home runs producing the only scoring. O'Dell allowed seven hits; Buzhardt six.

Orlando Cepeda got his 16th homer of the season with Willie Mays on base to give the Giants two runs in the fourth inning.

Herrera hit his 10th in the bottom of the second for the Phils first run and rookie pinch-hitter Jim Coker, batting for Buzhardt, hit his fourth of the season in the eighth inning to tie the game.

Willie Mays, who has been on a batting rampage, was quieted by Buzhardt and Farrell but he drilled a single through the middle in the eighth inning to extend his hitting streak to 16 consecutive games.

Congress Sends Highway Money Bill To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress Saturday sent to President Eisenhower a bill making available about two billion dollars of federal highway aid to the states for the next two fiscal years, which end June 30, 1963.

First the House, and then the Senate, passed the compromise measure by voice votes.

The principal provision would authorize $925 million dollars in each year for the 50-50 matching federal aid systems—the primary, secondary or farm-to-market and urban.

Another major provision would make it possible to finance the last remaining 1,000 miles in the 41,000-mile interstate system of superhighways being built over the nation.

Under present law, only 40,000 miles can be included in the cost estimates for this system and financed from the highway trust fund.

The bill would include the other 1,000 miles; this eventually could mean about one billion dollars from the trust fund since the average cost of the expressways is one million dollars a mile.

Also included are two-year authorizations for forest highways, forest development roads and trails, national parks roads and trails, parkways, Indian roads, and public lands highways.

The bill would include the other 1,000 miles; this eventually could mean about one billion dollars from the trust fund since the average cost of the expressways is one million dollars a mile.

Farrell Sets A Sizzling Pace In Ozark Amateur

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—Tommy Farrell of Jacksonville scorched the Westwood Hills Country Club here Saturday in the 14th Annual Ozark Amateur Golf Tournament with a new course record 66 on a par-72 hole course.

Farrell recorded rounds of 33-33 and birdied the final hole to net the 66 for a six-under-par. The 36-hole medal play tournament winds up Sunday with Farrell holding a commanding five-stroke margin.

His nearest rivals are bunched at 71s and this includes Ken Lanning, the medalist in the Missouri State Amateur.

There are four classes: championship, Classes 'A,' 'B' and 'C.' Farrell is entered in the championship flight. Over 150 entries are participating.

Farrell, who finished 12th in the 1959 NAIA representing MacMurray, was confident that he could maintain his lead and bring home the "big, beautiful trophy."

Bragg Breaks World Pole Vault Record To Climax Olympic Trials

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Writer
STANFORD, Calif. (P)—Don Bragg of Penns Grove, N.J., and the U.S. Army, brought the 1960 Olympic tryouts to a brilliant climax Saturday by smashing the world record for the pole vault with a superlative effort of 15 feet 9 1/4 inches.

The recognized mark is 15-8 1/4 by Bob Gutowski, set here in 1957. Gutowski himself Saturday failed to make the U.S. team.

The crowd of 65,000 went wild. Bragg's great vault matched in superlative achievement the record 7-3 1/4 high jump of John Thomas of Boston University Friday.

A third world record, but of a 15-3 than did Henry Wadsworth of Florida.

Ron Morris, formerly of Southern California, took second place in the pole vault with 15-5 1/4, and Dave Clark of North Texas State took third and a place on the team by making less misses before clearing 15-3 than did Henry Wadsworth of Florida.

He covered the 856 miles from Minneapolis to Chicago to Des Moines, Iowa, and back in 7 hours and 10 minutes, a time his aides said was better than expected.

As he flew over the control tower here Conrad reported he had been bucking and dodging air turbulence and thunderstorms occasionally, particularly near Fairbault, Minn.

The 57-year-old father of 10, a veteran of some 50 solo Atlantic crossings, flew over southern Minnesota at a time when heavy thunderstorm and tornado warnings were up.

Barfoot and without flight jacket to meet weight requirements, Conrad took off from Wold Chamberlain at 7:52 a.m. with a 352-gallon load of fuel, enough to make seven or eight swings around the Minneapolis-Chicago - Des Moines route.

Flying at approximately 120 miles an hour, he took 2 hours and 50 minutes to reach Chicago, another 2 hours and 40 minutes to hit Des Moines and then some what over 14 hours to get back over Minneapolis.

Swinging past his hometown of Winona, Minn., on his second lap he reported flying in hail and heavy rain at 2,000 feet but did not seem perturbed.

Conrad seeks to break the non-stop "closed circuit" mark of 3,084 miles set last year by a Czech pilot. At the morning weigh-in Conrad doffed his jacket and slipped off his shoes to reduce weight. His backers said the combined weight of the plane and contents made the maximum 3,858 pounds on the button.

USE JET TO MOVE EARTH
MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet engineers in Kiev have designed a digging machine using a jet engine to move 4,000 tons an hour on mining and construction projects. Tass reports. The Soviet News agency said prototypes are being built with a jet engine hooked up to a cutter so that a powerful blast of air and gas removes earth or rock in a 6x6-foot strip.

JSH Flag Display July 4 To Honor Fiftieth State

Jacksonville State Hospital will be a leader in recognizing the "baby" state as Hawaii joins the union of stars officially on July 4 when the new 50 star flag will be unfurled for the first time. One hundred and ten new flags, featuring the 50 stars, purchased from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will line the sidewalks on South Main Street and West Morton Avenue which borders the hospital grounds.

Monday's display of flags will be a repeat of the annual display begun over thirty years ago when Grant Hughes was business manager at the hospital and a leader in the local American Legion Post. Hughes and the Legion obtained donations from the merchants of Jacksonville for the purchase of the flags.

When sidewalks were laid outside the fence on South Main and on West Morton, metal flagpole holders were embedded 50 feet apart in the concrete to hold the standards, creating an avenue of patriotic color for all to enjoy.

One large flag and three smaller ones have been purchased for use on the large poles at the Administration Building, Veterans I, Veterans Diagnostic Building and at the Employees Home. The two flags flown on the east and west ends of the portico of the main building are 48 star flags and will continue to be used.

Our nation's flag is flown five times a year: Decoration Day, May 30; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, in September, and on Veteran's Day, November 11.

The hospital has given its old 48 star flags to the American Legion, who sometime in the near future, will conduct a "flag burning" ceremony. Only by burning or burial should a flag be destroyed.

Anyone who has an old flag is invited to take it to the American Legion Post Home on West College where it will be burned along with the hospital's flags.

The familiar burgoo tent will be in operation all day in the Franklin Park. Pie, coffee, sandwiches and assorted soft drinks will be served throughout the day.

Driver Nabbed After Chase; Fined $300

A high-speed chase ended at 1:20 o'clock Saturday morning on Sandusky street with the arrest of James L. Carter, 22, of 713 East Lafayette avenue, who was still in arrears on a reckless driving fine he was paying off by installments.

Police said pursuit extended over a number of streets, during which time the youth drove through five stoplights.

Carter was lodged in the city jail. He appeared before Police Magistrate Fred Daniels Saturday morning, at which time fines aggregating $300 on four separate charges were imposed.

On May 1 the youth was fined $125 for reckless driving and was permitted to pay off the fine in installments. At the arraignment yesterday he completed payment of the May 1 fine.

The court also added: $30 for failure to stop for a siren and red light of the police car; $20 for failure to yield right-of-way; $50 for running five stop signs; $200 for reckless driving. He remained a prisoner after non-payment of the new fines.

Other fines assessed by the police magistrate included: Bruce Coleman, 1415 South West street, $10 for shooting fireworks in city; Randy Surbeck, 1412 Center, $15 failure to yield right-of-way; Charles Decker, East Independence, $25 disorderly conduct; Jess Bostic, 733 Bedwell street, $25 reckless driving; and $25 leaving scene of accident; Fred Pigott, 1200 West College, $5 running stop sign; L. D. Gilbert, 868 West Chambers, $10 making improper turn in traffic.

Hold-Up Attempt At Stout Grocery Fails

Two masked bandits failed Saturday evening in an attempted hold-up at the Stout Grocery on South Diamond Street. The unsuccessful attempt was made at 10:26 p.m. as the owner, Roy Stout, was looking up for the night.

Stout was looking the store when he was attacked from behind by two persons, believed to be colored youths about five feet, seven inches tall. He was struck on the head from the side with a taped rubber hose. As he turned to the side he was struck from the other side.

Although under attack he was able to defend himself momentarily and began to shout for help. His cries alarmed the would-be hold-up men and they fled as neighbors came to Stout's aid.

Stout was not seriously injured. Although he was in possession of a sum of money, the two youths were unsuccessful in getting it. Police are still looking for them.

Stout told police officers he had stayed late at the store this evening with another man working on some refrigeration mechanisms. The other man had just left the store a short time before Stout was attacked.

ANEURIN BEVAN
LONDON (U)—Aneurin Bevan, deputy chief of the British Labor party, lay gravely ill Saturday night following a fresh onslaught of the illness that brought him near death six months ago.

The release hit Bevan, 62, at his home near London, where he had been convalescing since Feb. 14 from a major abdominal operation in a London hospital last Dec. 22. The nature of the illness that brought him to the operating table never was officially disclosed.

The Springfield's crew of 1,000 will enjoy many of the conveniences found at home. She is one of 16 cruisers in the Navy and the seventh guided missile cruiser.

CBS Refuses Kennedy Time To Answer Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System Saturday night rejected Sen. John F. Kennedy's request for time to answer personally criticism by former President Harry S. Truman.

However, the network said it would allow a representative of the Massachusetts Democrat, to appear for half an hour either Monday or next Saturday. If Kennedy himself appeared, the network said, it would then be obligated to give equal time to all other aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy made the same request to the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co. NBC said it was studying the request. ABC said it did not carry the Truman news conference.

CBS said it was not obligated by federal law to grant Kennedy free time to answer Truman because the former president "is not a candidate." Moreover, the network said, the program constituted a news interview and news event.

DALE HILLIER, MYRTLE DAVISON WED IN CITY

Dale Hillier and Myrtle Davison, both of Jacksonville, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the home of Justice of the Peace Charles Warzner. The double ring ceremony was used.

Senae Confirms Nominations
WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Saturday confirmed a batch of diplomatic, judicial and executive agency nominations. Earlier it had confirmed 247 postmaster nominations in a periculous burst of action.

Among the nominations confirmed was that of Robert S. Rankin, Duke University political scientist, to be a member of the Civil Rights Commission created by Congress in the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

Rankin's nomination was approved over a chorus of no votes from Southern senators who opposed creation of the commission. The other nominations were confirmed without objection.

Scott County Cancer Crusade Nears Goal

By Dorothy Sauer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3439)

WINCHESTER — A total of $978.28 has been received to date from the people of Scott County in the recent Cancer Crusade, according to Stanley R. Farris, co-chairman of the 1960 Cancer Crusade, with one more precinct to be heard from.

Approximately 130 volunteer crusaders have contacted over 2,000 families in the county presenting the cancer story to them and asking them for financial contributions to be used in carrying on the fight against this dread killer. Mr. Farris stated that the volunteer workers who have done such a great job on this campaign can derive a great deal of satisfaction from the fact that their work will result in saving lives through the early detection and prompt treatment of cancer, and they and the people who made financial contributions to the Cancer Crusade will help to make it possible to carry on the work and research that will eventually win the fight against cancer.

Mr. Farris further stated that the credit for the success of the campaign must be shared with Dr. William O'Reilly, chairman of the Scott County Chapter, Mrs. Aida Farris, co-chairman of the campaign, the precinct chairmen and the many volunteer workers and to Miss Julia Wisdom who took care of the banking.

The following are the precinct chairmen with their total amounts reported as contributed in each precinct in the county up to June 28: Winchester Woman's Club, Mrs. O. R. Robertson, $416.83; Merritt, Mrs. Karl Longenecker, $70.00; Point Pleasant, Mrs. John Bown, $48.50; Barker of Baylis.

Mr. and Mrs. David McKinney and family of Griggsville; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker of Plainville; Mr. and Mrs. William M. Schütz and son of Hillview; Mr. and Mrs. Loretta Simeon and daughter, Mrs. Juanita Edwards of Moline; Mrs. Laveta Springer of East Moline; Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Barker and family of Liberty; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell E. Butler and family of Golden, Colo. and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Deeder of Winchester.

Western Illinois Fair Concludes Activities Monday...

Livestock judging occupied the number one spot in the eyes of these young people Saturday at the Western Illinois Fair at Griggsville as they carried away the beautiful purple ribbons.

Today's events at Griggsville feature harness racing on a "fast track" starting at 2:30 p.m.

Livestock will again be in the spotlight at 7:30 p.m. in front of the grandstand when all winners parade around the race track to receive trophies and ribbons.

The Trans-World Auto Daredevils will open their show at 8 p.m.

Monday will find the finals in harness racing at 2:30 p.m. as the main attraction at the Western Illinois Fair. The Ray Price Show will open at 7:30 p.m.

The fair will end shortly after 9 o'clock Monday with a gigantic display of fireworks.

HONEY, ANYONE?
MERIDEN, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Annette H. Snow has a honey of a problem.

Nine years ago, bees settled in her attic. Last fall she had the attic sprayed because the bees were stinging workmen putting on a new roof.

The bees were killed. That left an awful lot of honey they normally would consume during the winter.

Now warm weather has loosened the excess honey, and it's dripping from the attic into Mrs. Snow's living room. She's all abuzz about it.

The Living Flag

For the second consecutive Independence Day, Americans pay their respects to a brand-new Old Glory, this one with an even 50 sparkling stars. The national emblem has come a long way since Congress authorized the first one in 1777 and decreed the field of 13 stars to represent "a new constellation."

Our American flag is unique among the world's in that it has changed and grown even as the country it represents has grown. The field of stars has been revised many times, and may possibly be again. But the familiar 13 red and white stripes are enduring and will always serve to remind us of our humble beginning as a nation.

One of the earliest American flags to display those stripes was the Great Union or Grand Union flag, which was first used by troops at Prospect Hill during the siege of Boston in January, 1776. That flag bore the British Union Jack in its corner, perhaps indicative of the ties that still bound the colonies to England.

In 1794, the number of stripes was increased to 15 with the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the young republic. Then in 1818 the number was permanently set at 13—for reasons of practicality but also by way of symbolizing the original 13 states.

According to legend, George Washington described the flag in these words: "We take the star from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Whether or not it is merely a legend, it speaks volumes about our heritage. For we, today, are that posterity, and it is we, today, who are determining what our posterity will inherit from us.

Yes, our flag has been a changing flag, yet it has always been the same in what it symbolized to each generation. It has been a proud flag and will be such, as long as those who salute it are worthy of it.

Make Haste Slowly

With the Democratic National Convention barely a week away, the real preliminaries have already started. Key politicians are preparing to set their final course.

Virtually all of them know right now what they are going to do. Most also have a firm conviction as to the likely presidential nominee who will emerge from Los Angeles.

They resist, however, any effort to push them into early declaration of intent. Their reasons are several.

For one thing, they believe their national party interests are best served by maintaining a "show of combat" almost to the very end. This is especially true in 1960, when they hope to draw sharp contrast between their deliberations and what they regard as the probable "rubber stamp" nomination of Nixon in Chicago.

Secondly, most governors and other party leaders must think always of their own state situations. These are often quite complex. Moves cannot be made without consulting many people. They cannot be made without a full canvassing of delegations and, in some instances, this has not yet been completed.

Many of these leaders are powerful men. But they do not operate by ignoring or riding roughshod over their supporters. They move in close concert with them.

Finally, these key figures do not relish going to Los Angeles or anywhere else in the role of mere tally clerks reporting the delegate count in their states.

For many, the national convention is their one big moment of glory, their one time in every four years when they can perform on the national scene with a vast television audience watching. The value of this to their self-esteem and their future election prospects is something they do not underestimate.

We can be sure that when they are satisfied on all these counts, these men will indeed make their moves. The specific order and pattern of events is not predictable. The range of possibilities is always wide.

But if the fundamental outcome is already clearly seen in advance by most leaders, as has frequently been true in the past, the exact pattern is a matter not of great consequence but simply of interest. It becomes just a matter of "how and when."

The concern today is to make sure it is not open-and-shut and too soon.

Something To Celebrate—

This weekend as we celebrate Independence Day, men and women from all over the world gather in Long Beach, Calif., to observe the 25th anniversary of founding of a fellowship, each of whose members is a living tribute to victory over a personal tyranny.

Congratulations are in order for members of Alcoholics Anonymous, everywhere.

WASHINGTON (AP)—When introducing Defense Secretary Thomas Gates at a businessmen's luncheon, the master of ceremonies kidded him about having trouble remembering socialites' names at a recent reception in London. He said the Gates difficulty reminded him of a British general who came home after spending 30 years in India.

The old soldier, who couldn't recall any of the guests invited to a lawn party in his honor, decided to bluff his way through conversations with them. He seemed to be getting away with it until a well-dressed dowager-type hailed him.

"So glad to see you again," the general said. "How's your dear husband?"

"He's dead," the woman replied. "So sorry to hear that," the general said. "How's your brother?"

"My brother is dead too," she answered. Completely embarrassed, the general stammered. "Tell me, my dear. What is your daughter doing these days?"

The woman replied, "She's still Queen."

WHEN IT COMES TO guarding their privacy in Washington, no group of people, including movie stars, can beat congressmen. Not only do they have unlisted phone numbers—most lawmakers even keep their addresses secret to discourage impromptu visits from constituents.

Only 26 out of 100 senators list Washington addresses, according to a Congressional Record report. Of the 432 representatives, only 123 are willing to take a chance on after-hours interruptions. PILAR LAPUS, wife of the Philippine Armed Forces attaché and this town's top promoter of Filipino cooking, was startled when a dinner guest complimented her on the chicken cacciatore.

"Chicken cacciatore!" Pilar exclaimed. "I didn't serve any Italian food tonight." Asked how a dish which looked, smelled and tasted like chicken cacciatore could be something else, Pilar explained: "I left out the Italian herbs. When you do that it becomes 'pollo con salsa de tomate,' which is strictly Filipino."

THIS EXCHANGE took place between Senators Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Clair Engle (D-Calif.) during a military affairs debate.

Dirksen: "By 'bird colonies' does the senator mean 'chicken colonies,' 'flying colonies' or 'eagle colonies'?" Engle: "I mean colonies who have eagles on their shoulders." Dirksen: "They are flying colonies."

Engle: "A 'bird colony' in the ground forces does not fly so well. Nevertheless he is a 'bird colony.'"

MASSACHUSETTS Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Representative Hastings Keith and Joe Martin have become part-time lobbyists for their state's cranberry industry.

To help restore faith in cranberries after last year's cancer scare, they tossed a luncheon for their colleagues and featured Mrs. Keith's special cranberry salad.

It contains cranberry sauce, red peppers, ginger, garlic salt, almonds and raisins in an apple gelatin mold.

REP. DANIEL INOUE (D-Hawaii) is suffering from a case of chronic mistaken identity.

Earlier this year a news cameraman thought he was the visiting King of Nepal and posed him for photographs. Now he is receiving letters addressed to "The U.S. Representative from Japan," asking why he didn't do anything to stop the Tokyo riots.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first half of 1960 is over. It was busy. But what does it add up to?

In foreign affairs it is too soon to say whether these past six months added up to an American disaster or just an unpleasant interval.

At home living costs reached an all-time high but there were no sensations as the presidential contest picked up speed.

As the new year began there was renewed hope that internationally-things might get better.

The United States, Britain, France and Russia were warring and hustling, getting ready for the summit conference May 16 in Paris. Before February ended France had joined the atomic club of the other Big Three by having its first atomic explosion.

There was a new twist abroad, one which may set the pattern for more serious events in the future.

Rioting students in Korea forced out high-handed President Syngman Rhee; and in Turkey rioting students forced out the dictatorship of President Adnan Menderes.

Then the egg broke. The American U2 spy plane was brought down over Russia with an unprecedented roar from Premier Nikita Khrushchev who insulted and belittled President Eisenhower, wrecked the summit conference and canceled Eisenhower's trip to Moscow.

It is too soon to know whether relations have been terribly damaged or just badly bruised.

The cold war resumed rigidly. Khrushchev talked of waiting until Eisenhower's successor is elected to resume trying to do business with the United States.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower, carrying out an Asian trip arranged before the summit crackup, ran headlong into another embarrassment.

The Japanese government, fearing for its safety, yielded to the protests of rioters against both the President's visit to Tokyo and the new American-Japanese defense pact.

It called off Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Eisenhower came home and, just as he did after the summit collapse, glossed over the unpleasantness and its implications, ignored his critics, and didn't seem to think the view was gloomy.

His critics—particularly among the Democrats and most particularly Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee—gave a darker interpretation.

Fulbright accused the Eisenhower administration of fumbling and bumbling in foreign affairs, and then some.

At home the year began with Vice President Richard M. Nixon seemingly certain of the Republican presidential nomination. Nothing which happened during the first six months of 1960 changed that.

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had dropped out of the race against him just before the year began and later tried to edge back in by saying he'd accept a draft if the Republicans wanted him.

As the year began, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts announced he wanted the Democratic presidential nomination. But first he had to prove he had some support.

He proved it by campaigning in the primaries and now, just 10 days before the Democratic convention opens in Los Angeles, he's the Democratic front-runner.

Hawaii Aged Enjoy Benefits Of 'Personal Care Homes'

By MARIE DAERRE

A "personal care home" program in Kaula, Hawaii, is paying dividends to clients, operators and taxpayers of the union's 50th state. What is a personal care home?

It is a private home where aged or chronically ill people are cared for, with the Division of Social Welfare keeping close watch over the system.

The program started 10 years ago with Mr. S. going to live with Mr. and Mrs. B. who had built an apartment above their garage. Today there are 56 patients, all but 10 getting public assistance in 21 homes. They include Mr. S. who is still with his original landlords.

"Kaula has no institution to care for the aged," explained Mrs. Mary A. Sabate, Kaula County administrator. "Recent advances in medicine have changed the picture for people with the chronic diseases of old age."

"With the kind of care they receive in these homes, many of these older people can stay quite active, keep human dignity and independence and in many cases save the taxpayer money."

The project requires team work. "A Division of Social Welfare decides whether a home is suited to a patient," explained Mrs. Sabate. "A public health nurse checks on the homeowner's experience in caring for people, his knowledge of health rules, his understanding of the future tenant's needs and his ability to follow rules."

"A fire marshal checks fire hazards, call buttons, cooking, laundry and garbage-disposal facilities, cleanliness and bed space. A building inspector checks to see whether the home is structurally sound. If a home passes the test and a tenant goes to live there, these inspections continue. Home operators get advice on such subjects as nutrition, occupational therapy, bed care and recreation. They also keep records of tenants' visits from nurses and to doctor, dentist and barber."

Doctors often refer patients to these homes. Church workers visit the homes at holiday time. A Brownie troop has adopted two homes. Y-Teens and Girl Scouts visit, too.

"Personal care homes give the older people individual attention, warm and understanding friendship and a sense of belonging," said Mrs. Sabate. "The home operators profit financially and get a fine feeling of satisfaction from the project."

Staying in one position for a long time may lead to blood clots in the veins, while slouching may push the heart forward in the chest, producing degeneration of the main blood vessels.

The Journal advises getting out of your chair and walking about at least once an hour and to avoid tight belts and girdles.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney has dipped into American history again to come up with a hero to match his great success with Davy Crockett. This time it's Daniel Boone.

With characteristic thoroughness, Disney has researched the life and times of the great wilderness pioneer, who will come out a fish and blood character instead of the legend of history books.

Don't will joint the lineup of heroes on the Walt Disney presents Tver next season, along with Texas John Slaughter, the Swamp Fox and Zorro. To play Boone, the producer hired an actor he has long admired—Dewey Martin.

"I've been trying to get Dewey to work for me for a long time," Walt explained. "But he didn't want to get tied down to a contract. The Boone deal appealed to him because he isn't stuck in a series."

said Dewey. "This is the best character I've had to play since 'The Big Sky.'"

Dewey is compactly built and may not fit the usual conception of Boone. "But I've done a lot of reading about him," the actor said, "and I found out he was exactly my height and build."

Dewey is faced with a dilemma in the Daniel Boone TV films. He naturally wants them to be successful, but not to produce the kind of tidal wave that engulfed Fess Parker.

Dairy Cows Set All Time Record

URBANA — Average butterfat production in Illinois Dairy Herd Improvement Association herds reached a record high last year—averaging more than 400 pounds per cow.

One herd in every four produced 460 or more pounds of butterfat. And a record 62,375 cows were tested.

University of Illinois dairy specialist Gary Harpestad says the state's 1,614 DHIA herds averaged 402 pounds of butterfat and 10,565 pounds of milk during the 1959-60 testing year.

The average return above feed costs was $257—a figure that has been bettered only twice before.

Harpestad credits accurate records for the spectacular showing of Illinois DHIA herds. He says records gave the dairymen a sound basis for culling unprofitable cows and helped them select outstanding heifers for herd replacements.

The U. of I. dairy specialist urges dairymen who are not on a record-keeping program to see their county farm adviser about starting one.

MORE INFLATION?

Developments around the world in recent months may have unleashed new inflationary forces. These developments include the swing toward communism in Cuba, the regression of U.S.-Russian relations, the racial conflicts in Africa, the revolution in Turkey, the canal demonstrations in Panama and the anti-American riots in Japan.

This progression of events calls for some revision of our plans for national security. It has produced strong demands for increasing government expenditures for defense.

In addition, there are in our own country increasing demands for larger government spending for welfare and to stimulate "economic growth."

Political disturbances and international conflict are inflationary because they disrupt production and transportation and often increase the demand for commodities. Some of the major price rises in the United States have been associated with civil or foreign wars.

Prices of several important commodities show advances from their lows of earlier months. The price of natural rubber has climbed to 46½ cents a pound, up 36 per cent from a year ago. Most of the world's rubber supply is produced in Indonesia and Malaya. Other industrial materials that have shown important price increases include tin, which is produced largely in Malaya, Bolivia and Africa; copper, produced in the restles areas of Africa; burlap, obtained from India and Pakistan; and silk, produced in Japan.

Prices of fats and oils have also gone up. Soybean oil has increased to 83-84 cents a pound, or 17 per cent over its low in early March. Cottonseed oil has climbed to 10½ cents, or 18 per cent above its low last December. Lard has moved up to 9 cents a pound, 29 per cent over its January low.

On the bearish side of the market is the fact that U.S. industrial production and business activity are not reaching the high levels forecasted last winter by the optimists. Steel production is way down. Automobile stocks are high. The aircraft industry is not getting the new orders that it needs. Housing isn't booming either. The index of industrial production in May was 110 (1957-100), only 1

Democratic Congress Hands Hard Job To Farm Plank Drafters

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic-controlled Congress has handed a tough job to the drafters of a farm plank for the Democratic National Convention convening in Los Angeles July 11.

The Congress has balked at following the traditional party path of providing farmers high price supports—the path a Democratic farm advisory committee wants the convention to choose.

The congressional stand came on bills proposing new programs to meet a mounting and costly surplus of wheat. The Senate voted to retain the present price support level of 75 per cent of parity and the House rejected a proposal of its Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee to raise supports to 80 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them. The parity concept was established by a Democratic administration back in the early 1930s. It was this party that led the way in establishing supports at 90 per cent of parity. It has been this party that has consistently endorsed supports at this level.

It has been the present Republican administration that has pointed the way to lower supports. Democratic platform drafters, who start work July 5, face the fact that their party is badly split on the farm issue. This is true, but to a much lesser extent, of the Republicans, who meet in convention at Chicago July 25.

The Democratic Farm Advisory Committee issued several weeks ago a statement advocating a farm plank pledging re-establishment of 90 per cent parity supports and establishment of more effective means of controlling excess farm production.

But the present Congress refused to follow this course, with many urban Democrats joining a big bloc of Republicans to defeat support-boosting measures.

As a consequence, the party's policy writers face this somewhat embarrassing question:

"Will we be able to promise farmers higher supports in the face of the refusal of a party-controlled Congress to vote them? Would farmers take such promise at face value?"

These questions take on added significance when it is recalled that many farm-belt Democratic members of the present Congress were elected two years ago on the pledge they would extend additional government aid to producers.

Some Democrats favoring higher supports argue that a new Democratic-controlled Congress elected this year would follow the leadership of a Democratic president to carry out a party pledge for greater aid to agriculture.

point better than a year ago.

Corporation profits for the second quarter are falling below the level of last year. This dip does not encourage businessmen to increase their spending for new plants and equipment.

One big danger spot is the growing personal and family debt. Farmers, for example, now owe $24 billion, twice as much as they owed to banks. Other people now owe $190 billion, or over three times as much as 10 years ago. Thus it appears that the prosperity of the 1950s, like that of the 1920s, was built upon expanding credit.

This situation raises some questions: Can our debts get too big? If so, when will they become too big? And what happens then?

One thing seems certain: The future is uncertain, but it will be interesting.

103 Automobiles In Morgan County

THE PASSING OF THE HORSE

Investment In Cars Put At $150,000

By CECIL TENDICK

On July 1, 1910, there were 103 automobiles in Morgan county and the Aug. 7 issue of the Journal listed the license numbers, the names of the owners, their addresses and the make of machines.

But there were only 99 automobiles licensed. Two Jacksonville men and one Waverly man asserted the state had no constitutional powers to license automobiles and the fourth man, Orr Ralston of Franklin, declined to buy a tag because he was using his 1910 Mitchell to carry the mail. The next year the Supreme Court ruled that every owner had to register his automobile with the Illinois secretary of state.

Wheaton Top Town

On July 1, 1910, there were 30,000 automobiles registered in the state. Proportionately, there were many more automobiles in the larger cities. From a population standpoint, Wheaton had the strongest ownership density. That shrewd and wealthy community was finding that a chauffeur and automobile cost less than a fine team of horses, harness, carriage, coachman and hostler. Rockford, with its large group of highly-paid machinists, ranked second.

E. M. Tindall of Jacksonville had the lowest number, 846, on his Holman. This car was simply a buggy with a gasoline engine mounted under the seat; it cost $550, F.O.B., Chicago. The highest number in the county was 27580, Arthur Swain of Sinclair had it on his Streater.

Dick Y. Rowe had No. 5575 on his Kissel; Dr. F. A. Norris had 15665 on his E.M.P., and Dr. G. O. Webster of Murrayville had 15836 on his automobile, another E.M.P. The doctors took to automobiles and nearly everyone who could afford a car had one. The list notes that 10 of the 70 physicians in the county had an automobile. Dr. Dean Stewart had a Packard registered in his wife's name and she was the only woman in the list.

Fifty years ago there were 45 different makes of automobiles in the county. The No. 1 car was the Mitchell, 10 in Morgan, followed by Maxwell and Olds, eight each.

Many Manufacturers

Other popular makes and the number of each were:

Olds, 6; White, 5; Streater, 5; Reo, 4; Chalmers, 4; Jeffery, 3; Cadillac, 3; Pierce-Arrow, 2; Pierce, 2; Ford, 2; Packard, 2; Oakland, 2; and one each—Rambler, Gale, Peerless, Mier Buggy Co., Springfield, Bendix, Jackson, Columbus, Metz, Wayne, Packard, Lane, Elkhart, National, Hamilton, Sommers, Maxwell-Briscoe and W. H. McIntyre.

"Taking $1,500 as a fair average price," the editor observed, "the figures would mean that more than $150,000 of Morgan county money is invested in automobiles." A few days later he wrote, "Automobile owners are running their machines away too fast and it is just a matter of time until somebody gets killed." Thereupon Chief of Police Davis sat down and wrote a letter to every automobile owner in Jacksonville advising him "the speed limit is eight miles per hour, and that does not mean ten or 12."

It Can't Happen Here

The growth of automobile ownership in Morgan county has been immense and unbelievable, a lusty 11,600% increase in 50 years. Last year 15,813 motor vehicles were registered in Morgan county, including 11,964 passenger automobiles. If the 1910-1960 growth ratio were maintained, there would be 1,385,968 automobiles in Morgan county in 2010.

AUTOMOBILES FRIGHTENED HORSES and the early "stink buggies" caused uncounted runaways in Morgan county. At least six of the horses were killed in their frenzied dash from the unnatural, noisy dinks. One horse, at the outskirts of Arenzville, didn't run. He simply stopped, shivered and fell dead between the buggy shafts.

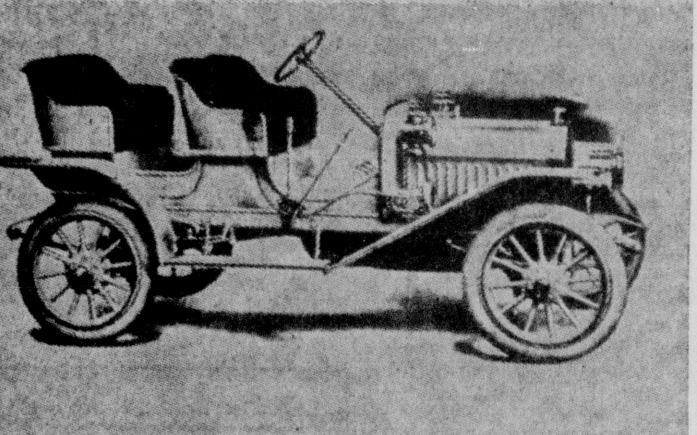

The illustration above was drawn in 1904, the year William Cameron, a traveling salesman, brought the first automobile to Jacksonville. It was a Packard. At that time irate owners of frightened horses sued for heavy damages, and sometimes collected. But by 1910 the shoe was getting on the other foot and owners were expected to be able to control their horses. A Bluffs man sued a Jacksonville motorist after his scared horse ran away and broke its neck. The Justice of the peace found for the plaintiff, but awarded him only $3 damages. This verdict, the editor of the Journal noted, "surprised, and perplexed, everybody."

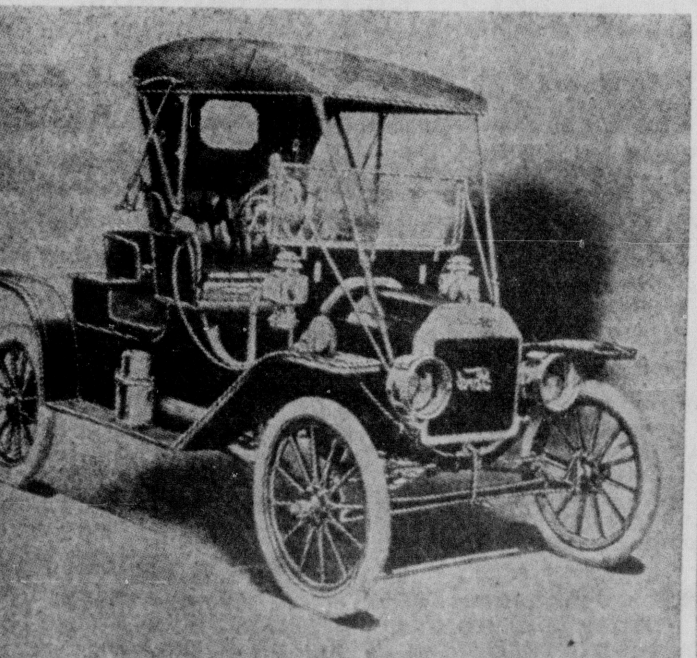

THIS DRAWING was a faithful picture of the times and adorned a very popular calendar in 1904.

THIS 1910 OLDSMOBILE had class and clearance. It had a giant six cylinder, 40 horse power engine, and cost $2,500. It was in such demand that four to six weeks were required for delivery. In that time, however, the body and undercarriage were painted to suit the purchaser. The next year Olds put the steering wheel on the left hand side and by 1912 nearly all American automobile manufacturers followed suit. Note the two-level running boards.

THE BUICK OF 1910 sold for $1,050. Extras available included windshield, top, extra tire with demountable rim, tools, acetylene lights and speedometer.

HENDY FORD WAS RISING to the top in 1910 as he abandoned his early, very expensive models, and put out the first of the "tin lizzies" at $950, complete. By 1912 there were over 400 different automobiles being manufactured, but Ford was making nearly a third of the total. In 1910 there were only two Fords in the county.

Farmers Vote July 21 In Wheat Referendum

Chairman Wilbur C. Williams of the Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee Friday announced that the annual marketing quota referendum for wheat growers will be held July 21.

The purpose of the referendum is to determine whether or not wheat growers wish to market their 1961 wheat under a marketing quota system. Quotas have been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture, as required whenever the wheat supply is more than 20 per cent above normal. They will take effect if approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

In proclaiming quotas for 1961, Secretary Benson established the national acreage allotment at the minimum of 55 million acres permitted by law. Of this, 1,442,835 acres were allotted to Illinois, from which local wheat farmers will receive individual farm allotments before voting in the referendum.

The secretary also announced that the minimum national average support price for 1961 wheat will be made known before the referendum on the basis of the latest available supply information. Based on the present wheat supply and the present law, the legal minimum wheat support price for 1961 would be 75 per cent of parity, the same percentage as this year.

If marketing quotas take effect, a grower who complies with his allotment will be entitled to market his total 1961 wheat crop without penalty and will be eligible for price support at the full rate.

A grower who exceeds his acreage allotment will be ineligible for price support and will also be subject to marketing quota penalties if he harvests more than 15 acres of wheat. A grower who obtains approval to produce 30 acres or less of wheat to be used exclusively on the farm will not be subject to penalties.

If marketing quotas are disapproved in the July referendum, all wheat produced will be eligible for marketing without penalty. Price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to those who comply with their acreage allotments.

Voting in the Morgan county referendum will be done at polling places to be announced later. Every wheat grower who expects to have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1961 will be eligible to vote, except those who participated in the up-to-30-acre feed wheat program in 1960.

The referendum is required, Chairman Williams said, by the fact that the national wheat supply is at almost twice the normal level. If quotas are approved for 1961, this will be the eighth successive year in which they have been used for wheat.

John Boatwright Graduates From M.I.T. June 10

John T. Boatwright, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boatwright, 1112 South Clay avenue, was among the 1,172 men and women who received diplomas at the June 10 commencement activities at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

John Boatwright graduated from Jacksonville High School in the class of 1951 and attended Illinois College for two years before enrolling at M.I.T. After serving with the armed forces for three years he returned to M.I.T. to complete his schooling.

Boatwright has accepted a position with a firm near M.I.T. and will do advanced research on communication systems. He joined the firm June 6 and has recently advanced to the position of senior project engineer. He will continue his schooling while employed, doing graduate work at M.I.T.

Boatwright and his wife are now vacationing in Canada and plan to visit Jacksonville for a few days before returning to Massachusetts.

IT PAYS TO TAKE CARE

U. of I. Agricultural engineer Jay Weber found dirty crank case breathers and air cleaners, low tires and grimy crankcase oil were common faults of most tractors observed in a recent study. In one case 18 tractors were tested before and after simple repairs and adjustment according to the instruction manual. The minor adjustments hiked efficiency by 20%.

BIRTHDAY PARADE

DAVID BRUNE

Our parade gets off to a jolly start today with David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brune, 911 E. College, in the lead. David was 4, June 28. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brune and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Leake.

JOHN IVAN SUTTLES

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Suttles of Waverly, makes his first appearance in the Birthday parade as he gets ready to blow out that one candle on his Birthday cake July 7. John is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Suttles of Roodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Bates of Franklin.

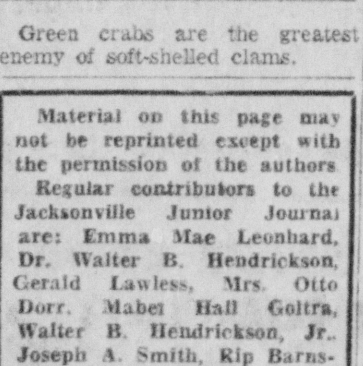

DONNA JO SMITH

Donna Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith of Winchester, was just 2 years old June 6, but already she can be a big sister to brother Danny Lee who must wait some time to march in the Birthday Parade since he is only 8 months old now.

DAVID LITTLE

Going right along with David is his little dog Boots. David was 6 years old June 28 and he can already print his name very neatly.

Part 7: Independence Day

There came a time when Grandpa and Grandma and Tommy all three made plans for a great day: The much-looked forward to day was July Fourth... Independence Day! Every boy and girl, and every adult will surely thrill to the sound of marching feet and the melodies of freedom as Tommy, his grandparents and parents, and hundreds of others go, in imagination, down the glowing path of freedom, stirred by the record of our Nation's birth and progress.

They were up bright and early on the farm, and Grandma packed fried chicken, home-made bread and country butter, pies and cookies and fruit into a big basket. And of course there was a jug of steaming coffee with thick sweet cream to enrich it!

Grandpa and Tommy hurried the chores (Jack had gone home for the day). They wanted to be ready when Tommy's parents drove out to take them into town for the great event.

"Here they come!" shouted Tommy as he saw the car come over a rise in the road.

He ran out to meet them, and for once didn't say a word when Mom took him into her arms and kissed him, although he usually felt he was too big to be petted.

"I guess everyone likes it once in a while," he said to himself, "and as Grandpa would put it, 'Mom is a great old girl!'"

But Tommy felt at least ten years older when Dad shook his hand man-like and said:

"My goodness, Tom, you've grown a foot taller!" (It's reality. Tommy had been gone only a few weeks, but boys do shoot up fast at that!)

Bands Play
In no time at all, they were off to the city, and the town folk and many strangers were already gathered for the big event.

Bands played and soldiers and Boy Scouts marched, their pretty uniforms neat and worn with

Let's Go Birding —

Invasion Breaks 30-Year Calm

By David Mudgett

Editor's Note: Miss Emma Mae Leonhardt, who regularly writes the "Let's Go Birding" column is visiting Europe this summer. Today, and for the next few weeks we have a series of articles, by Mr. David Mudgett, which we are sure you young birders will find very interesting.

Like Bombing Squadrons

The woods west of Woodland Place, east of the Norbury Sanatorium and south of the Mound has always harbored a goodly supply of wild life including song birds and squirrels.

It is ideal for them with thickets, fallen trees, high grass, a high hedge of Jonathan Turner's Osage Orange and tall trees reaching up a hundred feet, some old enough to have convenient holes for squirrels, owls and woodpeckers.

Last fall the woods had a sudden change after more than 30 years of tranquil, balanced ecology. (Balanced ecology means that the wild creatures were just the right number for the food in that place.) Jacksonville's famous starlings decided to roost there.

The flocks of starlings coming in the evening increased in size each day and were joined by large numbers of grackles and various blackbirds, some of them probably migrating through at the time. Soon the evening became an awesome display of bird power with thousands in every flock coming in from all directions, with the timing of bombing squadrons.

Some flocks, especially the grackles, would stop short of the woods, resting in neighborhood trees until it became darker and they could take off, a few at a time, to the woods. As each flock settled on top of the trees, there would be a new grouping of those birds already there and each new flock to arrive would flush hundreds of roosting birds into the air to circle and settle again.

With each new arriving flock, the others already there would be pushed lower until the trees were loaded from the lower branches all the way up to the tops. The flocks would come in seemingly endlessly in the setting sun, and as it grew darker, the black masses of late-arriving flocks could be seen against the dimming western sky.

In three the woods could not hold them all, and they started roosting in trees around the neighborhood. The ground under the trees became white, and in the woods themselves a layer of droppings built up.

How Did You Do?

On last Sunday's Junior page we gave clues to 21 different aircraft; by no means including all the types you can see today, of course. You may have already checked up to find the right answers, but if you haven't here they are —

1. Pe-8 — One of America's earliest multi-engine bombers.
2. Jenny — The affectionate name given to a W.W. I training plane.
3. P-40 — Piston driven Army fighter of "Flying Tiger" fame.
4. B-25 — Medium weight U.S. Army bomber of W.W. II.
5. P-86 — Single engine jet fighter. Near sonic speeds.
6. F-51 — Single engine (piston driven) fighter of W.W. II fame.
7. B-17 — Four engine U.S. Army bomber of W.W. II fame.
8. C-119 — Otherwise known as the Fairchild Packet cargo carrier for the U.S. Army.
9. DC-3 and C-47 — Commercial and military versions of the dual engine piston driven cargo and transport plane. U.S. aircraft.
10. MIG-17 — Russian single jet fighter. Possibly supersonic.
11. ME-109 — German single engine piston driven fighter plane.
12. Vampire — British jet plane.
13. Silhouette — U.S. light-private plane. Single engine.
14. F-104 — U.S. supersonic jet fighter plane.
15. B-58 — U.S. supersonic jet multi-engine bomber.
16. TU-70 — Russian turbo-prop transport plane.
17. Spitfire — British single engine fighter plane. W.W. II fame.
18. F4H — U.S. Navy jet fighter plane. Supersonic speeds.
19. Piper Cruiser — U.S. light plane with single engine.
20. YH-31 — U.S. ambulance helicopter plane.
21. XP-80 — U.S. experimental vertical take-off fighter.

ANSWERS:
1. PE-8 — ONE OF AMERICA'S EARLIEST MULTI-ENGINE BOMBERS.
2. JENNY — THE AFFECTIONATE NAME GIVEN TO A W.W. I TRAINING PLANE.
3. P-40 — PISTON DRIVEN ARMY FIGHTER OF "FLYING TIGER" FAME.
4. B-25 — MEDIUM WEIGHT U.S. ARMY BOMBER OF W.W. II.
5. P-86 — SINGLE ENGINE JET FIGHTER. NEAR SONIC SPEEDS.
6. F-51 — SINGLE ENGINE (PISTON DRIVEN) FIGHTER OF W.W. II FAME.
7. B-17 — FOUR ENGINE U.S. ARMY BOMBER OF W.W. II FAME.
8. C-119 — OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE FAIRCHILD PACKET CARGO CARRIER FOR THE U.S. ARMY.
9. DC-3 AND C-47 — COMMERCIAL AND MILITARY VERSIONS OF THE DUAL ENGINE PISTON DRIVEN CARGO AND TRANSPORT PLANE. U.S. AIRCRAFT.
10. MIG-17 — RUSSIAN SINGLE JET FIGHTER. POSSIBLY SUPERSONIC.
11. ME-109 — GERMAN SINGLE ENGINE PISTON DRIVEN FIGHTER PLANE.
12. VAMPIRE — BRITISH JET PLANE.
13. SILHOUETTE — U.S. LIGHT-PRIVATE PLANE. SINGLE ENGINE.
14. F-104 — U.S. SUPERSONIC JET FIGHTER PLANE.
15. B-58 — U.S. SUPERSONIC JET MULTI-ENGINE BOMBER.
16. TU-70 — RUSSIAN TURBO-PROP TRANSPORT PLANE.
17. SPITFIRE — BRITISH SINGLE ENGINE FIGHTER PLANE. W.W. II FAME.
18. F4H — U.S. NAVY JET FIGHTER PLANE. SUPERSONIC SPEEDS.
19. PIPER CRUISER — U.S. LIGHT PLANE WITH SINGLE ENGINE.
20. YH-31 — U.S. AMBULANCE HELICOPTER PLANE.
21. XP-80 — U.S. EXPERIMENTAL VERTICAL TAKE-OFF FIGHTER.

Rockets And Space—

Outside Space Cabin Simulator

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

While two men are going on a "space flight" inside the space cabin simulator at Brooks AFB, Texas, others are just as busy outside.

Information from inside the simulator is piped to instrument spangled consoles outside shown in the picture above. These machines record the conditions in the simulator and the reactions of the subjects in the cabin. The recordings are then studied by scientists of the USAF School of Aviation Medicine.

Now, how well did you do? Grade yourself this way: 20 correct — boy, you're a genius! 17 correct — excellent! 15 correct — good! 12 correct — fair, but you need some reading up; less than 10 — boy, your eyes must have been closed all the time!

As you can see, the list included bombers (both old and new), fighters (old and new), cargo and transport craft, private planes, a helicopter, a vertical take-off plane and both piston and jet driven craft.

There are still sea planes, autogyros and the X-15 rocket driven plane. The day is coming in your lifetime when all passenger Army will be rocket driven with supersonic jet driven craft coming first. Perhaps the same engines now used to drive the Army's supersonic "Hustler" B-58 bomber will in time see use in high speed commercial craft. Atomic propulsion may likewise be used to power first military craft and, perhaps, eventually commercial craft.

Such a military craft is even today in the design stage. But the many difficult problems associated with radiation resulting from the use of atomic power as the source of power present shielding difficulties; both passengers and pilots must be protected from these radiations.

The atmosphere controls for the cabin are designed so that either the occupants of the cabin or researchers outside can vary the pressure, humidity, temperature or composition of the air in the simulator. However, the researchers outside the cabin have the final say about conditions inside the cabin.

The pressure inside the simulator can be varied from sea level to 28,000 feet. This means that the effect of a slow leak, such as a puncture in a spaceship by a small meteorite, can be simulated. Although there is still air at 28,000 feet it is too thin for man to breathe. Above 20,000 feet man must have extra oxygen to breathe in order to stay alive.

K Rations
For nourishment the subjects in the two-man space cabin simulator have two quarts of water and 3,000 calories of food a day. The food is K rations like those carried by soldiers during World War II.

The subjects can take about enough clothing to fill an overnight bag—that is, take up about two cubic feet of space. They will also have two cubic feet more space to store personal belongings.

No Day, Night
The only way the men in the simulator will know whether it is day or night will be by looking at a clock.

Possible flight conditions and problems will be shown to the subjects on a television screen and control panel at one end of the simulator. The men will try to solve these problems using controls provided for this purpose. Dr. B. E. Welch, Chief of the school's Astroecology Section, described the conditions in the simulator like this:

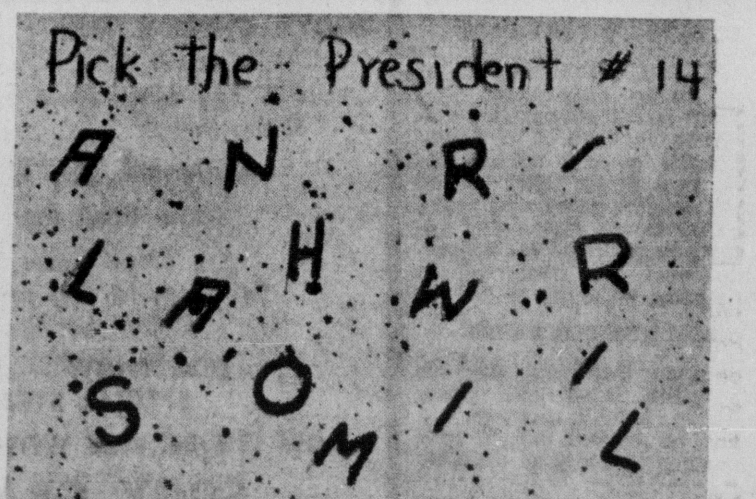

"The men who enter the cabin will be completely sealed off from the world to which they have grown so accustomed. Time will weigh heavily on their minds, and boredom will become a constant companion.

"The familiar day-night cycle they live by will be lost. Though they will be able to stand erect and move about a bit in the cabin, they will be greatly cramped during the 30 days. And 30 days can be a very long time."

Blueprint For A Vacation Wardrobe

Planning Comes Before Your Shopping

The summer wardrobe assembled for Bettianne Fisch, Queen of the 1960 New York City Summer Festival, is one that any girl would like to take along on a vacation. We show here some of the clothes, all of them budget-priced. Culotte costume (left) is done in a vivid dacron-and-cotton print. Culottes are very wide to simulate a skirt. Perfect for summer travel is Bettianne's slim knitted dress (center) in orlon yarn. It launders easily, dries rapidly and needs no blocking. And it stays true to its size and shape. For partying on summer vacation, what could be prettier than this (right) sheer nylon dance dress? A very full, circular skirt is topped by ivy-embroidered bodice. Belt and piping are in green satin. Dress looks fragile but is not.

BY GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you're wondering just what should go into that suitcase for vacation, better make a blue-print. Don't just head for the nearest store armed with a checkbook or cash and a vague idea of what you'd like.

Your blueprint should be based, first, on what's new in your summer wardrobe. If you've some perfectly good shorts for which you need new tops, make a note of this. Decide on colors and jot those down.

What about sweaters? You need cardigans in synthetics or wool. If you are taking along some need pull-overs. In other words, every purchase you make should dovetail with what you now have. This saves you money and time. It also gives you clothes a carefully co-ordinated look.

This year, you'll want to add some sunback dresses, some Brigitte Bardot gingham, and some Orion knits to bring things up to date.

There are some things to be wary of when you shop. These include the bikini or even the two-piece suit unless your figure is perfect. Pass up the short-shorts if you don't have the figure for them. If your feet are less than pretty, put your money into closed play-shoes. Knowing your own limitations will make it possible for you to look picture-pretty on vacation.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Most of the 1 1/2 million tourists who pass through Independence Hall each year have the same reaction upon first seeing the Liberty Bell.

They reverently doff their hats (although there is no sign urging them to) and then do a double take at the size of the crack running from the lip of the bell clear up to the crown. Most knew about the famous crack but didn't think it was that bad. Some grow indignant that nothing has been done to patch it, and each year quite a few welders offer to do the job for free.

Such sympathy is entirely misplaced, for the battered old bell is more than worthy of its wounds. You'd have a splitting headache too if you'd been through what this renowned symbol of liberty has been through in the past 200 years.

It has been bounced off an Army wagon, nearly sold at public auction, left on a railroad siding in snow and rain, twice almost melted down as junk and, in between periods of neglect and adulation, carted about the country to bolster attendance at fairs and expositions.

Few people realize that its prophetic inscription, "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof," had nothing to do with the American Revolution. The province of Pennsylvania was still devoted to the mother country in 1750, when its Assembly finally got around to adding a steeple to the lovely state house built 14 years before.

Within a year the steeple was rising and Isaac Norris, chairman of the Assembly committee that ran the state house, set about procuring a bell through Robert Charles, London agent for the colony. Norris chose the famed inscription from Lev. 25:10 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of William Penn's Charter of Privileges, which granted religious freedom to the colony.

"Respected friend, Robert Charles," he wrote on Nov. 1, 1751, "we take the liberty to apply ourselves to thee to get us a good bell, of about 2,000 pounds weight, the cost of which we presume may amount to 100 pounds sterling or perhaps, with the charges, something more."

Charles contacted Thomas Lester's Whitechapel Foundry for a bell modeled after Westminster's "Great Tom," which Henry VIII had hung in honor of Edward the Confessor. By September of the next year Norris cautiously reported, "The bell is come ashore and in good order and we hope it will prove a good one, though we have not yet tried the sound."

His caution was warranted for, as he informed Charles on March 10, 1753, he had "the mortification to hear that it was cracked by a stroke of the clapper without any violence, as it was hung up to try the sound. Though this was not very agreeable to us, we concluded to send it back by Capt. Budden, but he could not take it aboard."

"Upon which two ingenious workmen undertook to cast it here and I am just now informed that they have this day opened the mold and have got a good bell, which I confess pleases me very much that we should venture upon and succeed in the greatest cast, for aught I know, in English America."

Later, Norris sadly related, "Upon trial it seems they added too much copper, and were so teased with the witticisms of the town, they had a new mold."

So at last, in May 1753, on the third try, the Liberty Bell finally got off the ground and into the steeple. Still Norris wasn't satisfied. He had the Whitechapel firm send over another bell to replace its first effort, but by this time the Assembly was so fed up it refused to take down the American bell.

The bell set about its destiny of proclaiming liberty throughout the land. As the official state house bell and unofficial town crier, it alerted the people of Philadelphia to the momentous events leading up to the American Revolution.

The bell did not ring on July 4, 1776, since the Declaration of Independence was signed in executive session. But it did ring on July 8, when Col. John Nixon mounted the wooden platform outside the state house for the first public reading of the document.

In 1777, with British troops circling Philadelphia, the Assembly ordered all bells removed from the city lest they fall into enemy hands and be melted into cannons.

Loaded on an ox-drawn baggage cart, the Liberty Bell was taken through the British lines in a convoy of 700 wagons under escort of North Carolina infantry. It tumbled into the dust when its wagon broke down in front of the Moravian Brethren House in Bethlehem, Pa., but finally reached safety under the floor of the Zion Reformed Church in Allentown, Pa. In hiding for almost a year, it returned to Philadelphia in time to herald the surrender of Cornwallis and eventually the end of the war.

After that, its role was largely funeral. It's muffled kneel announced the deaths of Washington, Hamilton and Jefferson. It tolled for Charles Carroll, last living signer of the Declaration of Independence; for Lafayette, last of Washington's generals, and finally in 1835, for Chief Justice John Marshall, last of the old Federalists, when according to legend it developed its famous crack.

Jacoby On Bridge

NO SACRIFICE
IN THIS BID

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

West was one of those brilliant players who always loses at rubber bridge. This particular session had been running true to form and when North opened the bidding with two hearts West saw that another slam was about to be racked up against him.

There was nothing he could do about South's three club response, but when South made his second bid of three spades West was ready with a brilliant bit of strategy. He doubled. The purpose of the double was twofold. If a slam was going to be bid West wanted a spade lead against it and maybe his spade double would scare North and South away from the slam.

NORTH (D)
♠ A 7	♥ 6 4 3 2
♦ A K Q J 2	♣ 9 8
♣ Q 5	♠ J 10 6
	♥ K J 9 3
SOUTH
♠ J 10 9 8 5
♥ 10 4
♣ A 10 7 6 4
Both vulnerable
North	East	South
2♥ Pass	3♠ Pass
3♦ Pass	3♣ Double
Pass	Pass	Redouble
Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening lead—♦ 9

All in all, it was the sort of reasoning common to "unlucky" players.

North passed the spade double. If South was fooling around South could take himself out. If South really held a spade suit, West might have placed himself right on the fire.

Sure enough, South had a spade suit and redoubled. West had no place to go. East had no place to go. West opened a diamond and South had no trouble making 12 tricks. With the 1200 point bonus for overtricks and 500 for game and rubber, North and South scored 2110 points. A lot better than the slam they might not have bid.

♥ CARD SENSE ♦

Q—The bidding has been:
South—West—North—East
1♥—1♠—2♦—Pass
2♣—Pass—3♦—Pass

You, South, hold:
♠ A K Q J 10 ♦ 3 2 ♣ K 9 5 4

What do you do?
A—Bid four no-trump! You really have a good hand and your heart suit is solid.

JAYCEE CONSTRUCTION PROJECT

Jaycees Hear Reports At Regular Meeting Tuesday

The Jacksonville Jaycees met Tuesday evening at the Dunlap Hotel. A board of directors meeting was held at 6 o'clock, and the regular meeting was held at 6:30.

Following the meal the meeting was called to order by president Bob Blazier, and the invocation was given by Don Evans. Minutes of the last meeting were read by secretary John Vahle. The treasurer's report was given by Jim Bates.

Loren Mueller gave a complete report of the recent Jaycee National Convention held in St. Louis, Mo. Mueller, a new member in the Jacksonville Jaycees, expressed his enthusiasm for the scope of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce as a hard working and powerful organization.

The Illinois Jaycees had the largest number of members registered at the National Convention, with 185 Illinois Jaycees present. A final report was then given by Bob Black on the recent Miss Jacksonville Pageant.

Vice President Bill Carl announced that the annual Jaycee family picnic will be held July 12 at Nichols Park. All Jaycees are urged to gather up their wives and children and attend this annual event. Chairman for this year's picnic is Harry Enrich.

A progress report on the publicity and scrapbooks of the many Jaycee activities was then given by Jack Barwick.

Everett Birdsell announced that the Jaycees would, for the second year, sponsor a Pony Sale. Tickets for the pony will go on sale at the annual 4th of July celebration at Franklin.

The pony, obtained from the Hudson's Farm of Jacksonville, is of thoroughbred stock. The funds from this project will go towards the many Jaycee community projects for 1960-61.

A report was then given by Tom Cramer of the recent chairman orientation meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. on June 21. This meeting was a guide for leadership training for all officers and chairmen for the coming year.

Robert Patterson, Dean Welch and Bud Crawford reported on the progress of the Jaycee facilities at Lake Jacksonville. It was announced that toilet facilities, a boat dock and picnic tables were nearly completed and should be finished early in July.

Members who have worked on the above program so far are Warren Hudson, Bill Fulkerson, Roy Mason, Fred Cody, John Linebaugh, John Vahle, Jr., Slocum, Wayne Dobbs, Dean Welch, Jack Barwick, Don Mason, Glen Preston, Jack Gillespie, Bud Crawford, Walter Hendrickson Jr., Bob Curry, Bob Spencer, Leo Wood, Dick Johnson, Carl Schanbacher, Jack Fairfield, Tom Cannon, Gene Price and Harold Conlee.

A report was given by Roy Cooper on the upcoming Jr. Golf tournament.

All reports during the evening were

Children's Day At Jerseyville Fair July 6th

JERSEYVILLE — July 6 will be Children's Day at the Jersey County Fair, and the local playgrounds will be closed on that date according to announcement made by the playground officials.

The following day, July 7th, the playgrounds will close again at 11 a.m. for the annual merchant's parade. There will be a playground float, and all children wishing to ride their bicycles in the parade just behind the float are requested to decorate them Thursday morning and report to the Lions Playground at 11:30 a.m. to lineup for the parade. Each cyclist must obtain a permission slip from one of the playground leaders and have their parents or guardian's signature on the slip and return it by 11:30 a.m. Thursday when they line up for the parade.

A pet show will be a feature of Children's Day in the morning beginning at ten o'clock with contests in the afternoon at one o'clock. Free rides and soda will be given to the children's day participants.

The pet show classifications will be as follows: Dog division—large, smallest, most spots, best costume, best mixed breed (enter pet in only one classification).

Cat division: best costumed, most beautiful, longest hair, longest tail and bushiest tail. (Enter pet in only one classification).

Parakeet division—prettiest and best trained.

All other—Most interesting, prettiest, ugliest, smallest and largest. All animals must be registered and checked in at registration desk at least 15 minutes prior to judging time which is 10:30. Animals requiring leash must have same or be removed from grounds. They must have necessary shots for the health and safety of all.

Visit At Bluffs Before Leaving For Budapest

BLUFFS — M/Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Henry Wendorf, who have been stationed at Costa Rica for the past three and a half years, are enjoying a vacation with their relatives in Pike and Scott counties prior to leaving in July for Budapest, Hungary. Their son, Charles, a student in a military school in Missouri will remain in the states for school. Mrs. Wendorf is the former Velma Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Lulu Thompson. The family has been in Washington, D.C. for briefing for the new assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morris and other members of the Frohwitter family attended a family dinner at Siloam Springs Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. William Frohwitter recently returned from a vacation trip in the east where they visited his granddaughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wells Smith in Plymouth, N.H. and her niece in New York state.

Miss Ruth Sievers, sponsored by the Bluffs Band Boosters, and Miss Linda Berry, sponsored by the Bluffs Woman's Club, attended the Egyptian Music Camp at DuQuoin last week. The girls were moved to southern Illinois for the week's activities by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sievers, Mary Ann and Mrs. Mae McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Berry, Sr., and Byron, Jr.

The parents, brother and sister drove to DuQuoin Saturday to attend the concert presented that evening returning home Sunday. Both young ladies signed for piano and chorus.

Joe Graham, soil conservationist of Pike county, is being transferred to Jacksonville as supervisory soil conservationist for Morgan and Scott County District. This will be effective next month. Mr. Graham came to Pike county in 1947 when the district was first organized and has been very successful. The district regrets his leaving. William Mays, who has been here the past seven years, will succeed Mr. Graham as the unit conservationist.

Auxiliary Holds Hat Sale Before Meeting Tuesday

The War Dads Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the American Legion Home. Nellie Wandell presided.

Amelia Losch conducted a hat sale preceding the meeting. Quite an array of hats were on display. One was an inverted paper mache flower pot, gaily decorated with flowers, ribbon and veiling. There were both large and small creations in the display, but all were gaily decorated.

The hats were paraded before the Dads and were worn during the business meeting.

Mrs. Abbott served as secretary in the absence of Jessie McElrath, and Jane Patterson served as chaplain in place of Eula Bland.

The call to the convention was read, and delegates to the state convention, to be held July 30-31 at

Tweedies
HOPPER'S NEW FAMILY SHOE STORE

Harrisburg, were elected. Nina Abbott and Opal Bends were elected as delegates, with Dora DeWitt and Amelia Losch elected as alternates. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Nellie Wandell.

Ward Party
On Wednesday afternoon the War Dads Auxiliary held a party for 40 patients in ward nine of the Jacksonville State Hospital. Bingo was played during the afternoon. Cigarettes were given as prizes.

Assisting the hospital chairman, Opal Bends, were Mrs. Kenneth Cox, Nellie Wandell and Margorie Marsh of the Volunteer Service Department, Jacksonville State Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Carlton Anderson

Galesburg Girl Wed June 26

Sharon Ann Baker was gowned in traditional white when she became the bride of L. Carlton Anderson at a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the First United Presbyterian church of Galesburg. Dr. Kermit W. Peterson, church minister, was officiant, assisted by the Rev. David W. Yohn of El Paso, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Baker of Galesburg and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Anderson of 506 North Base street, Morrison.

Beverly Bolin of Hinsdale served as maid of honor; Ann Hendricks of Sterling, Barbara Bellis and Miriam Wallick of Galesburg were in the procession as bridesmaids; while the junior bridesmaids were Susan Hegz and Merry Bellis, both of Galesburg. They each carried a cluster arrangement of pink carnations.

Gary Anderson served as best man for his brother, while the groomsmen were Maurice Baker, brother of the bride, Richard Gilbons of Evanston and Albert Huff of Peoria, friends of the bridegroom. Ushering duties were taken care of by John Lehman of Elgin, friend of the bridegroom, assisted by the groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Baker chose a pink sheer silk organza dress. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a sheath dress of beige silk organza.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. Assisting with the reception were Joyce Schafter, Mary Jean Hocker, Mary Grothaus, Judy Nordberg, Ann Luedke, Judy Peach, Donna Armstrong.

On returning from a western wedding trip the couple will reside at 7539 Penn Avenue South, Minneapolis 23, Minn.

The bride is a graduate of Illinois State Normal University and the groom is a graduate of Northwestern University. He is currently employed by Cargill, Inc., at Minneapolis, Minn.

The couple are students at Tennessee Temple Schools in Chattanooga, Tennessee, where they will return next fall.

The wedding will be solemnized August 14 at the Central Baptist Church at 3 o'clock.

All friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

home of Mr. and Mrs. George North and other relatives.

S.M. Sgt. Jerroll R. Clark and family of Great Lakes, Ill. departed June 21 for the eastern states. Sgt. Clark will enroll for a five week training school at Bolling Field, Washington, D.C., and his wife will visit her parents in Columbus, Ga.

Their daughter, Toni, has been the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clark, near Hillview. Sgt. Clark and family will leave in August for Frankfurt, Germany, where he will begin a three year assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Buell Peebles of Rochester, Mich. were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kilmer, being en route to their home following a Florida vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hammersteth of Sayville, N.Y. have returned to their home following a two weeks visit with her father, Frank Campbell. Mrs. Hammersteth will be remembered as the former Garne Campbell.

Miss Eunice Knox of the White Hall Hospital nursing staff has returned to duty following a two week vacation. Mrs. Earl Smith has also returned to duty following a week's vacation, and Miss Inez McGlasson of Ailey is away for two weeks.

Ever notice how relish trays are welcomed when they are offered in restaurants? You can duplicate this pleasant practice at home. Fill the compartments of a lazy-susan with creamstyle cottage cheese, sweet gherkins, pickled beets, marinated onion rings.

To cook fresh beef tongue put it in a kettle with onion, carrot, celery tops, parsley sprigs, a bay leaf, peppercorns, a few allspice and whole cloves. Cover with water and simmer from 3 to 5 hours or until tender.

Bluff's Couple Wed June 18

An evening ceremony Saturday, June 18, at the Trinity Lutheran church in Bluffs united Janice Kaye Beddingfield and Loren H. Engelbrecht. Rev. James P. Hawley performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beddingfield, Bluffs, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Engelbrecht, Bluffs.

The bride selected her sister, Barbara Beddingfield, as her matron of honor. The groom chose his brother, Larry G. Engelbrecht, as his attendant.

The bride wore a beige brocade sheath dress and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The matron of honor wore a beige linen and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. Assisting with the reception were Miss Shirley Beddingfield, Barry, Mrs. Russell Neff, Winchester; Mrs. Glen Sandman, Misses Louise Pohlman, Marilyn Fargo, Mrs. Russell Heier, Mrs. Clyde Leland, Taylor, Mrs. Carl Pohlman, Mrs. Walter Schmitz, Miss Carolyn Beddingfield and Miss Judith Sandman.

The couple is presently residing with the groom's parents.

Rainbow Girls Attend State Grand Assembly

ROODHOUSE—Seven members of the local assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, and their chaperone, Mrs. Earl Bacon, have returned from the State Grand Assembly held this week. The assembly convened at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

Attending were Worthy Advisor Betty Edwards, Associate Worthy Advisor June Bacon, Janet Wagner, Deanna Frazier and Pauline Allen of Roodhouse; Toby Anderson of White Hall and Patty Neil of Hillview.

Roodhouse Notes

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lucas have been his niece and her husband, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold Gingham, and children from a Marine base in Carolina. They were en route to San Francisco, from where they will embark for Hawaii for his three-year service there.

William Keyser, who has been hospitalized, has been taken to the Hilltop Nursing Home near White Hall to be cared for.

Ora Gontermann has returned home from the Passavant Hospital, Jacksonville.

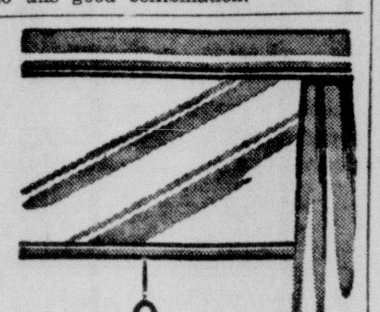

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Printy, White Hall, will move soon to the Ballard apartment at the home of Mrs. Paul Ballard. Mr. Printy will serve on the Roodhouse Community high school faculty this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rawls and her daughter, Jacksonville, Fla., have returned home after a visit in the home of Mrs. Estelle Merritt. They were accompanied home by his daughter, Vicki Rawls, who has made her home here with her aunts, Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. Clara Reichert, for several years. Vicki will return to Roodhouse at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hoots have received word that their son, T. Sgt. William Lester Hoots, Loring A.F.B., Me., is hospitalized as the result of which he incurred while sliding in to base in a baseball game at the base.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gamble, Chicago, are weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Farris. The Roodhouse Envelope Co. has closed the factory for the annual vacation period which extends from Thursday evening, June 30, until the morning of July 18.

Chicken left over? Dice it and add it to a mixture of green peas and carrots. Dress with mayonnaise. Diced celery makes a crisp addition to this good combination.

Miss Linda Fanning and Everett Eugene Beddingfield were united in marriage Sunday, June 12, in a ceremony performed by Rev. William Spencer in his home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman attended the couple as best man and bridesmatron.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bettie S. Fanning, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beddingfield, Bluffs.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Beth White, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Harold Beddingfield, mother of the groom, served as hostesses.

Max Belzer Honored At Surprise Fete

Max Eddie Belzer was guest of honor Friday night, July 1, at a surprise party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Belzer, 1310 S. Clay, in honor of his 18th birthday.

Supper was served at 7:30 with the following guests present: Pam Minor, Janet Cully, Tom Chumley, Don Schilling, Cindy Tomlovich, John Chambers, Glenna Flynn, Dennis Flynn, Loraine DeFries, Jerry Lewis, Evon Daberkon, Mark Randall, Jeanne Furlong, Clayton Stephenson, Rama Sadler, Gary Johnson, Betty Ann Moore, Roy Johnson, Jr., and the guest of honor.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomlovich, Toni, Mark and Marcie, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Rush, Lynn and Debbie of Chicago. The early evening was spent visiting and taking pictures. After opening his many lovely gifts the party left for the drive-in theatre.

When you are cooking pork tenderloin slice the meat crosswise, flatten the slices, then roll them in seasoned flour. Fry in butter, browning first then covering the pan to finish cooking the meat.

Delicious accompaniment for a summer fruit salad: shape cream cheese into small balls, then roll in a mixture of finely chopped nuts (pecans or walnuts) and green olives.

Ever make one of the basic sweet pastries for fruit pie? You can vary the flavor of the dough by using orange juice instead of water and adding a little grated orange rind.

Cover fish fillets with a mushroom sauce, top with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until the fish is done.

Barb Dewese Wed In Lynnville

An afternoon wedding Sunday, June 26, at the Lynnville Christian church united Barbara Jean Dewese and Eddy Joe DeGroot. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dewese, 400 South Diamond, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeGroot, Jr., Route 3, Jacksonville.

Rev. Leitz performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with ferns. Mrs. Gordon was organist and Mrs. Hempel was vocalist.

For her attendants the bride chose her sisters, JoAnn Dewese as maid of honor, Merle Kay Dewese as junior bridesmaid, Beverly Dewese as flower girl and Judy Dewese as ring bearer.

The best man was Larry DeGroot, brother of the groom. Ushers were Norman DeGroot, Carroll DeGroot, and Harley DeGroot, all cousins of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin. A finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a princess crown richly embroidered.

The attendants were gowned in pastel ballerina length dresses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Assisting at the reception were Betty Durham, Mary Ellen Durham, Peggy Jo Stevens, Virginia DeGroot, Lela DeGroot, aunts of the bride and groom, Martha Walker, and Anna Mae DeGroot.

On returning from their wedding trip the couple will reside at 911 South East.

Old-fashioned dressing for slaw: cream seasoned with salt and cayenne and made sweet-sour with sugar and vinegar. Don't forget the final touch—add some celery seeds.

Pantryshelf soup for a rainy day: creamstyle corn added to a thin white sauce and flavored with a suspicion of grated onion.

CONVENTION DELEGATE FORMULAS

REPUBLICAN	DEMOCRATIC
1,331 DELEGATES To Nominate: 666	1,521 DELEGATES To Nominate: 761
1 delegate, 1 alternate for each vote	Each state may select
4 delegates each state	2 delegates, 1 alternate for each vote
2 additional for each representative-at-large	FORMULA:
6 additional each state which went Republican in last election	2 1/2 votes each state for each congressman and each senator, plus 1/2 vote for each national committee- man
1 each congressional district which gave Eisenhower or GOP House nominee 2,000 votes
1 additional for above if GOP vote totaled 10,000

(NEA News-Graphic)
"WHY" OF GOP SETUP—Selection of delegates is strictly a party function and, while other factors may enter at times, the basic requirement is loyalty to the party. The respective national committees set the delegate formula. The Republicans, historically weak in the South, in 1952 (revised in 1944) adopted a formula of delegate representation based on party support. Their experience had been that heavily populated southern states where support was practically nil came into the convention with greater delegate strength than strongly GOP but less populous northern states. Result: Too strong a voice for weak South in party councils.

With The Girl Scouts

Brownie Day Camping and three weeks of Intermediate Day and Overnight camping ended on Friday, July 1. Because of the capricious weather, three days this past week were spent indoors and no overnight camping was undertaken. Other plans will be made later regarding overnight camping, possibly a camping session in August.

Altogether there were approximately 584 girls enrolled for camps in the Council area this year which includes the two day camps in Greene county, Camp Robin Hood at Carrollton and Camp Lions Park at White Hall, as well as Camp Shag-bark.

Mrs. Perk Chumley, 340 East Michigan, was director of Camp Shag-bark at Lake Jacksonville. Mrs. Bud Roth and Mrs. Jake Shelton of Carrollton were directors of Camp Robin Hood and Mrs. Earl Kirehner and Mrs. Glen Clark of White Hall were directors of Camp Lions Park.

Volunteer Help
Assisting these fine directors were volunteer unit leaders and helpers who signed up for camp with the girls, one adult volunteer for each eight girls. Without their willing assistance and capable director of the girls in carrying out planned camp activities, no camping sessions could have been held. Each one fulfilled her duties expertly, making the entire camping program the success that it was this year. All of these faithful workers deserve a rousing cheer and a sincere vote of thanks from everyone involved in Girl Scout camping, especially from the girls themselves.

In addition, a number of "mothers served as drivers taking carloads of girls each day over often difficult, slippery roads and calling for them in the late afternoon. Many of them got stuck, some of them took the wrong road at times but all of their passengers arrived safely at camp each day and to these drivers we also say a heartfelt "Thank you."

Any successful venture such as this camping program also requires the services of many extra helpers—shoppers, who make the rounds of various food distributors each day and bring supplies to the camp, food sorters and separators who fill unit boxes at each meal time with correct amounts of food for each unit, rainy day helpers, craft directors, song leaders, game leaders, campfire leaders—each one fills a vital need in the camp program. To all persons who filled these places this year—thank you.

Meet To Organize Historical Club In Pike County

PITTSFIELD—The second meeting to organize a historical society in Pittsfield was held this week. At the first meeting Earl G. Zimmerman was elected chairman of this group. Because of ill health it was necessary for him to resign, and Warren Winston has been selected as temporary chairman.

The purpose of this Pike County Historical Society is to bring together people interested in history, especially of our community. They plan to collect any material which may help to establish or illustrate the history of the county; its early settlement, activities in peace and war, its progress, etc.

It will collect material which will portray events of the past or present. The society will provide for the preservation of this material and will attempt to make it accessible for all who wish to see or examine it.

News Notes
Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Duling of the Methodist church will leave Monday for their vacation. They will attend a family reunion in Decatur and then be away for the next two Sundays. They plan to attend some sessions of the Jurisdictional Conference in Grand Rapids, Mich., July 6 to 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark C. King are planning to spend the holiday weekend in Chicago. Mr. King plans to attend the Trade Fair. They will also visit their daughter, Mrs. Harvey Glore, and family in Evanston and their son, Clark Jr., and family, who recently purchased a home in Northbrook and moved from Springfield this week.

Mrs. A. W. Schimmel and daughter, Mrs. Creed Shaw, left Friday for Chicago where they will visit the Trade Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foote will leave by train on Monday evening from Mexico, Mo., for Rialto, Calif. to visit their son, Ned Foote, and family. They will be accompanied by their granddaughter, Carole Dyer. They plan to be away about three weeks.

Mrs. Lucille Gain of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho and her two children plan to arrive about the 15th of July for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Barkley, in Pittsfield.

The city sales tax for March collected in Pittsfield was $2,787.71. This was added to the lake fund which now totals $71,700.77. It was started in July of 1953. This is to be used on the new lake project.

Miss Judy Watson, daughter of the Mike Watsons, who has spent the spring vacation here, left for Atlanta, Ga., where she has enrolled for a two year course at the University hospital where she will study to be an X-ray technician.

Warren G. Lord, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Lord of Pittsfield, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Shangri-La, conducting underway training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Shangri-La recently joined the Atlantic fleet after a 14,000 mile journey around South America from her former home port of San Diego, Calif. The flat-top will remain in Cuban waters until the end of July, when it will return to its new home port of Mayport, Fla.

A PERSONAL LETTER

DEAR FOLKS:

Summertime driving is fun for the whole family! It's time for vacations and relaxation . . . for driving through the mountains and to the seashore . . . for family picnics and summer sports. These are the warm, full days of sunshine and enjoyment. Now is the time to travel new highways, visit new places, and do the many summertime things Americans love to do!

The Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee in cooperation with the National Association of Automobile Dealers recently compiled a number of suggestions that can add measurably to your summer driving pleasure.

We felt that due to their timeliness and importance, these thoughts should be passed along to our friends and customers.

BE ALERT—driving is a full time job.

MAKE COURTESY YOUR CODE OF THE ROAD—it takes only a moment.

TAKE A BREAK—pull off the road and relax . . . drive refreshed.

ALLOW FOR EMERGENCIES—adjust your driving to road, traffic, and weather conditions.

FOLLOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD—signs, signals, and road markings are your guides to a safe trip.

CHECK YOUR CAR—be sure it is in top condition for summer driving.

Have a safe, pleasant summer season—and do come back!

Cordially yours,
DICK STRATMAN,

Lopez Charges Ramos Of Nats Throws Spitball

BALTIMORE (AP)—Washington's Pedro Ramos throws a spitball and American League umpires are lax in calling him on it, White Sox Manager Al Lopez charged Friday.

"Everybody will be throwing them," Lopez observed after accusing Ramos of tossing spitballs at Jim Landis and Nellie Fox Thursday night as the White Sox defeated the Senators 4-2 in 10 innings in Washington.

Lopez said he protested to plate umpire Larry Napp after Ramos struck out Landis with a pitch that "broke about a foot."

Although Napp talked to Ramos, Lopez said the umpire was not forceful and apparently afraid of antagonizing the crowd.

YOGI THE BOOKWORM

"Why would I?" Berra asked. "I got my own books at home."

VARIETY OF SKILLS BLENDED TOGETHER IN KOCHMAN SHOW

From a clown with nerves of steel to an announcer with a machine-gun delivery—the International Auto Daredevil's performance is a blend of a variety of skills.

The show, which will be seen at the Morgan County Fairgrounds on Friday, July 8, at 8:30 p.m., requires more than drivers to make it the national attraction which it has become.

"Whether it's the ramp men on the ground on whom the drivers must depend to execute their stunts with the least possible danger," says producer Jack Kochman, "or whether it's the stuntmen who drive the fast-moving automobiles. All of them round out the one hour and forty-five minute program into a smooth operation."

Walter "Jasper" Kovaz, of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, provides the comic relief via unpredictable antics. But despite his erratic actions and baggy pants, he is a top stunt driver. He is also a steel-nerved performer, allowing swift-moving autos to come—literally—within mere fractions of an inch of running him down.

"Wild Bill" Reed has led a checkered life. He's been a football player, coach, and race driver and has appeared on television shows, during off seasons. A resident of Akron, Ohio, Reed is a veteran of all the major thrill shows of the past, including that of the late Jimmy Lynch.

Neil Hamilton of Lake Worth, Florida, is another example. Adept at many maneuvers, Hamilton is probably best known for his mastery of the two wheel drive. He races the car at high speed. Then—with virtually a single quick operation from a take-off ramp—sends his car on two wheels for a long run past the stands.

Gerry Walker, an experienced radio and television announcer, is probably the most important man to the fans. His rapid-fire delivery and extensive knowledge of stunt driving maneuvers, keeps the audience abreast of the fast-moving program.

Producer, Jack Kochman, is the co-ordinator of the exhibition, keeping the pace at a thrill-a-minute speed despite the complicated preparations which are needed for the 23 individual maneuvers. While one act is preparing to go on, another is getting equipment ready and a third is actually doing the performance.

Kochman is also responsible for the scheduling of the exhibitions and transportation of the $100,000 worth of equipment from place to place.

In addition, it is Kochman who consults with automobile factory engineers and designers, and who must know every ounce of weight, power and maneuverability which his drivers need in a vehicle to insure the utmost in safety for his men.

All of the 22 persons who put on the exciting show play important roles in creating a successful exhibition.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Don L. Miller is the basketball coach at Sandoval high school and he has coached at Payson and West Pike. Ron Harris is the new basketball coach at Edwardsville succeeding veteran mentor Joe Lucco who will stay as athletic director of the Tigers.

Bloom (Chicago Heights) will not have athletics next year according to the decision of the high school board of education. The Bloom track teams won four State track titles and were always strong in all sports in the South Suburban loop. The Kewanee high school board recently decided to abandon baseball next year while Aurora (East) high will field a baseball team in about three years as the new field will be completed at that time.

St. Teresa high of Decatur has a new football and basketball coach as Bob Ernst has replaced Joe Venturi, new football boss at Auburn (Rockford) high school. Ernst coached at Springfield Junior college the past two years and graduated from Millikin University.

Robert Teater of Springfield has been offered a contract to coach football at Waverly high school succeeding Joe Doglio who is taking the assistant coaching duties at Paris high school. He is a graduate of Western Illinois University at Macomb. Norman Zeibel is the new athletic director at Moline high school and he formerly coached basketball at Moline and Morton (Cicero) where he tutored two State championships in 1932 and 1941.

Illinois is getting several top notch cagers including John Love, Ottawa; Jerry Sloan, McLeansboro; Bernie Mills, Dunbar (Chicago); and Clyde Kramer, Erie. Northwestern bound are Rich LaPosa, Pekin and Rich Falk, Calumet. Bradley is getting Granite City's ace guard, Rich Williams. Bumpy Nixon of Galesburg is headed for Carbondale and will play for Southern Illinois University.

John Wrenn has resigned as football coach at East Moline high to take a job in the Northern Illinois University at DeKalb. Herbert Hodges, former track coach at Wheaton high, has been hired to coach track at Rockford's new high (Auburn) next year. Joe Lucco's cage teams won 515 games in 26 years for a fine record.

Marshall (Chicago), defending State championship, wants to play in a Holiday tourney next season. Paris will host a Holiday tourney again in 1961 with Danville high as co-host. The Tigers formerly held a Holiday affair and dropped it a few years ago while Ernest Eveland was coaching.

Bloom (Chicago Heights) also eliminated in the economy cuts including adult education courses, the rental of school facilities and the use of the swimming pool for after-school activities.

$355,000 PRIZE MONEY

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—A total of $355,000 in prize money awaits the winners in the nine-day Du Quoin State Fair starting Aug. 28. The lion's share of the money goes to the fastest harness horses.

Fair premium books released today show prizes totaling $292,000 for winners in the five-day harness racing program, one of the main stops on harness racing's Grand Circuit.

The feature event is the Hambletonian Stake with an expected gross purse of $150,000. The classic race Aug. 31 for 3-year-old trotters is the richest event of the sulky sport.

JURGES TO BALTIMORE?

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Evening Sun speculated Friday that Bill Jurgens, deposed manager of the Boston Red Sox, will take a job with the Baltimore Orioles.

The newspaper said he talked Thursday night with Lee MacPhail, Orioles President, and "could fit in nicely as a scout," according to Manager Paul Richards.

Astounding Jump Is New World Record And Highlights Tryouts

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—John Thomas of Boston University soared to the astounding level of 7 feet 3 3/4 inches in the high jump Friday for a world record and a spectacular climax to the first day of the United States Olympic tryouts.

Thomas' great leap bettered his own previous mark of 7-2. A few moments earlier Thomas did 7-2 1/2. The crowd of 41,000 let out a mighty roar both times.

The first day of the two day trials to determine the squad that will represent the United States at the Olympic games in Rome starting Aug. 25 brought surprises and heart-breaks.

Lost to the team were Bill Nieder of Kansas who earlier this year set a world record of 65-7. His effort of 61-9 1/2 put him fourth. The first three men in each event automatically were named to the team.

Dallas Long of Southern California won the shot with 63-6 1/2 and Parry O'Brien, formerly Southern California and the defending Olympic champion, was second with 62-3 1/2 with his Los Angeles strider teammate, Dave Davis third at 62-3 1/2. Thus ended the long and bitter rivalry between the four greatest shotputters in the world.

There were other heart breaks beside Nieder's. Greg Bell, the defending champion in the broad jump, failed to make the team as a newcomer, Ralph Boston, of Tennessee A. and I. shot out in front with a great 26-8 1/2.

Charlie Tidwell of Kansas, the NCAA champion, pulled up lame in the finals of the 100 meters.

The 100 meter finals ended in a blanket finish that took a half hour of study to untangle, aided by photographs.

Ray Norton, formerly of San Jose, was proclaimed the winner with Frank Budd, ex-Villanova, second. Dave Sime, formerly of Duke, realized his life ambition by tying for third with Paul Winder of Morgan State and thereby making the team. All four were timed in :10.4. All will be taken to Rome and will run as the 400 meter team, with Norton and Budd competing in the open 100, and the coaches deciding on the third entry for this event between Sime and Winder.

The Olympic trials records in all events except the 100 meters were tied or broken, attesting to the quality of the 1960 team.

Wimbledon Singles Title Won By Fraser

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON (AP)—An Explosive service carried Neale Fraser to the 14th Wimbledon championship Friday and reaffirmed Australia's supremacy in the world of tennis.

In an all-Australian, all-left-handed final witnessed by a bevy of British royalty, the 26-year-old triumphed over Queenslander Rod Laver 6-4, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5.

The match, interrupted by rain in the third set, got off to a dull and error-laden start but finished on a sparkling note with both players dueling skillfully. Laver's game obviously was dulled by his 3 1/2 hour, 86 game doubles marathon of the evening before.

The victory was the fourth in five years for an Australian and the final impressiveness of both the champion and the runnerup was enough to throw heavy gloom over America's hopes of recapturing the Davis Cup.

Fraser also became the third left-hander since the tourney began in 1877 to take the title. The first was Sir Norman Brookes of Australia, winner in 1907 and 1914 and a spectator here Friday. The other was Czech exile Jaroslav Drobný, 1954.

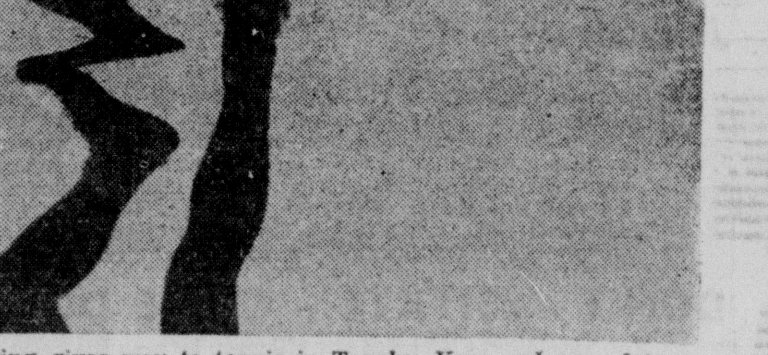

Wimbledon's "dedicated fortnight" ends Saturday with the crowning of the women's singles and various doubles champions. Maria Bueno of Brazil is favored to take her second straight women's crown in the final round against Sandra Reynolds of South Africa.

The men's championship round was played before a capacity 18,000 in the center enclosure, including members of Britain's ruling family.

John Nickell's 678 series led the A & A Asphalt team of Detroit to victory in the team competition at the American Bowling Congress event in Toledo this spring.

Detroit pitcher Frank Lary began the season with a 21-6 lifetime record against the Yankees. In his first 1960 start against them he bowed.

Panama rider Manuel Ycaza won five stakes races with five different horses at the 1959 Saratoga Springs, N. Y., meeting.

SHADOW PLAY—Shadow boxing gives way to tennis in Topeka, Kans., where a late afternoon sun cast this figure on the clay court. Poised to return a shot, player is all arms.

DOGGERS GETTING CLOSER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The City Council voted 10-5 after a turbulent debate Friday to place the Chavez Ravine stadium deal into escrow.

This is the deal under which the Los Angeles Dodgers will acquire title to 300 acres in the ravine in exchange for Wrigley Field and other considerations. The ordinance incorporating the deal takes effect in 30 days.

The Dodgers do not expect to occupy the stadium before the 1962 season.

MIXED FOURSOME SET

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The 1961 National amateur mixed foursome will be held at the La Gorce Golf Club here Jan. 31-Feb. 4, tournament chairman John E. McAuliffe has announced. Bill Hyndman and Anne Quast won the title last winter and plan to defend it.

Paul Kubiaka of the Buddy Simon team of Cleveland won the ABC singles title by rolling a 726 series last April. He was second in the All-Events and shared third place in the doubles.

Better Homemaking
Air Conditioning Insures Summer Comfort

BY KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
By this time the winter's heating bills are paid and it's time to start thinking about summer comfort, which usually means air conditioning.
Homemakers living in centrally air conditioned homes report not only greater comfort but clearer housekeeping because much dust is filtered out.
They also report many more visitors who drop in to enjoy a respite from the heat.
Room air conditioners, however, are far more plentiful. So a homemaker should know a little something about what they will and won't do.
There are several types of room air conditioners. Some models are mounted directly into windows, others are installed in sleeves through the wall.
Some window air conditioners can be moved from room to room on specially designed push carts to slide into windows fitted with adjustable frames.
You have a right to expect a room air conditioner to cool warm air, filter, dehumidify, ventilate and circulate fresh air. Your best bet to get the size to suit your needs is to deal with responsible firms.
Cooling capacity of a room air conditioner usually is rated in BTUs (British thermal units) but it's a mistake to believe that the higher the number the better the unit will perform in a particular situation.
Filters have improved in the last two years, I'm told, removing more of the dust and pollen particles while permitting a better flow of air.
But don't neglect to check manufacturers' instructions about when to inspect filters for cleaning or replacing to insure you get these benefits.
Summer comfort is aided considerably if relative humidity can be kept below 65 per cent.

The room air conditioner, above, is mounted through the wall to leave the window free. Conditioner panel can be decorated to blend with wall. Controls are top-mounted.

Within its area, the air conditioner should reduce humidity to this point or below even on hot sticky days.
You should check the specifications to see how many pints of air moisture the conditioner is capable of removing every hour.
You can also keep humidity levels lower by using exhaust fans in the kitchen-laundry area to suck damp air outdoors. Keep this area shut off from an air-conditioned room.
If you object to the bulky look of window-installed air conditioners, the neater appearance and permanent installation of through-the-wall units may be worth the added expense.
These have been thinned down now so that they project only a few inches into the room. The front panel on some units can be papered or decorated to blend with walls; controls are on top and baffles around the edge direct the cooling air.
At an air-conditioning seminar I attended not long ago, the point was made several times by engineers that women tend to set the air conditioner thermostats too cool. A temperature 10 to 15 degrees cooler inside than outside probably will be more comfortable over a period of time than one with a 25-degree difference, according to comfort experts.
Another point to remember is that some of the more powerful air conditioners require 208/230 volts of electricity to operate and this will mean special wiring in many cases. This is a problem to discuss with the dealer and the electrician before you decide on a machine.

Terry Turner Of Roodhouse Weds Colorado Girl

ROODHOUSE — Before an altar banked with floral bouquets and ferns, Karen Keck, daughter of Mrs. Nanna Keck of Denver, Colo., and Terry Lee Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Turner of Roodhouse, exchanged nuptial vows on Saturday, June 18. The double ring ceremony was performed at eleven o'clock at the Evans Memorial Chapel on the campus of the University of Denver, Denver, Colo., with Rev. Harvey W. Hollis officiating.
The organist played traditional wedding selections preceding the ceremony. The soloist sang "Oh, Promise Me," and at the time of the blessing of the young couple she sang "The Lord's Prayer."
Given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Keck of Denver, the bride chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of white satin and lace. Pleated panels of lace extended from the waist to the hemline; inserts of lace were also featured in the fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a small jeweled headband of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bridal bouquet of miniature red roses atop a white Bible.
Attending the bride was Miss Judy Ellice of Denver, who wore an ideally designed gown in a pale beige tone with white accessories. Her corsage was of miniature yellow roses.
Tommy Turner, twin brother of the groom, served his brother as best man. Joe Turner, another brother from Roodhouse, was an usher. Although the twin brothers are both members of the United States Air Force, they were attired in white jackets and tuxedo trousers on this occasion.
Mrs. Turner wore a light green summer dress with white accessories and a corsage of tiny pink roses. The groom's mother wore a light brown sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.
The young couple will reside at 2357 Geneva Street, Aurora, after a honeymoon at Estes Park, Colo.
A reception was held, following the wedding, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keck at 1410 South University Blvd.
Martha Ellen Turner, sister of the groom from Roodhouse, assisted at the punch bowl.
The bride is a high school graduate from Denver, and the groom graduated from Roodhouse Community high school with the class of 1956. He has served in the U. S. Air Force for four years and is stationed with his twin brother at Lowry AFB.
Virginia Merrill Weds
Mr. and Mrs. Theodore T. Merrill of Arlington, Va., announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Anne, to John Lynn Dobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Dobson, also of Arlington. The wedding took place Saturday, June 28, at Trinity Presbyterian Church in Arlington. The reception was held in the church hall.
Miss Mary Merrill was maid of honor for her sister, Robert Mortimer of Worcester, Mass., served as best man.
The bride is a graduate of Greensboro College in North Carolina.
Mr. Dobson is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.
The couple will live in Durham, N. C., where the groom will enter Duke University Medical School in the fall.
The bride is a daughter of Ted Merrill, formerly of Roodhouse, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Merrill of Roodhouse.
Tammy McClure, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McClure, who has been cared for at St. John's Pre-Mature Center, Springfield, since her birth, April 7, now weighs four pounds, eleven ounces and is expected to be released on attaining the weight of five pounds. Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan are the maternal grandparents.
David Lawson will enter Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., Monday and undergo eye surgery on Tuesday.

Ardell Kimmel Resigns Post At Roodhouse High

ROODHOUSE — Ardell Kimmel has resigned his position in the Roodhouse Community High school as vocational agriculture teacher. He and his family will move to Ava Saturday.
Mr. Kimmel has accepted a similar position in the Tri-County school at Campbell Hill, not far from Carbondale. Mr. Kimmel will also supervise student teachers from the university.
Mr. and Mrs. Kimmel and children have been popular young people in the community. He was active in school and church activities, and she was active in church and Home Bureau organizations.
Rotary Officers
The new Rotary officers were seated at the Wednesday night meeting of the local club as follows: Carl McAdams, president; Kenneth Jackson, vice president; Kenneth Ballard, secretary; Jim Orr, treasurer; Jack Jordan, sergeant-at-arms; with Clem Gould named to replace him as the Jordans move this summer to Dixon; song leader, Jerry Hagen, and Russell Chapman, pianist.
Jim Cressy is the retiring president. He was presented with his past president's pin by Kenneth Ballard. The new president was welcomed to his office and instructed by W. L. Worcester, who presented him with a compass to aid him in his year's work. Also instructing Mr. McAdams was Clem Gould.
The board of directors is comprised of Carl McAdams, Jim Cressy, Roy Burrus, Kenneth Ballard, A. E. Clark, Lloyd Coffman, Dr. Ludwig Dech and Kenneth Jackson.
Department leaders are: Club service director, Kenneth Jackson; vocational service director, Roy Burrus; community service director, Jim Cressy and international service director, Dr. Ludwig Dech.
Visiting Rotarians included John Marshall and C. H. Haneline of Jacksonville and Hamilton Vasey, Fargo, N. D.

Honor Officials Of Unit 27 At Farewell Party

Past and present school board members who have served Unit 27 during the administration of superintendent M. G. West met Sunday evening for a farewell party in honor of Superintendent West, Board Secretary Margaret Baird and Principals Paul Blake-man and Farrell McGinnis.
The group gathered at the American Legion hall in Arzenville. The evening was spent socially. Refreshments of homemade ice cream and cake were served. The group presented each of the honored guests with a token of appreciation.
In addition to the honored guests and their families, the following board members and their families attended: Edward Wessler, Virgil Wegehoff, Alvin Weber, Miller Ober, Oliver Meyer, Martin Bur-bur, Ernest Strickler, Arlo Schumacher.
Edwin Dietrick, Edwin Lakamp, Dale Branner, Warren Stock, Le-land Werries, Ralph Ginder and Max Baise.
Those unable to attend but contributing to the party were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roegge of Le-sburg, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brockhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Aufdenkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carls and Mr. and Mrs. John Musch.

A memorial can be a sign or symbol of a living thing though it be everlasting stone. When properly designed, it appears, like the trees, the flowers and the grass, to have grown from the earth upon which it rests. In its memories will thrive, and like great oaks, flourish through the years... the THORN MONUMENT CO.

As I See It
by E. W. BROWN
Diogenes was a Greek Cynic philosopher who reportedly searched his whole life and never found an honest man. But according to a recent news item, he didn't look for him in the right time and the right place. The time: A couple of weeks ago. The place (of all places): California's Hollywood Park race track. It seems that a local real estate executive spotted an envelope on the floor of the track's turf club. He picked it up and discovered it stuffed with money... large bills amounting to some $4500. If he'd been there, old cynic Diogenes would have been astonished for the exec strolled calmly to the manager's office and turned the envelope in. The owner claimed it in less than 15 minutes. And to top it off, the finder refused any reward except a soft drink. Any questions, Diogenes?
Here's a "man-bites-dog" type item: when bloodhounds at a Georgia prison dug under the fences and escaped, the prisoners were used to round up the dogs.
If you are looking for a good dependable used car, it will pay you to shop here before you buy. Right now we have a variety of fine used cars, priced reasonably and in top condition. E. W. BROWN, 406 South Main, Phone 5-4333.

COUNTERFEIT GENTLEMAN

THE STORY: Artemus Baldwin, an undercover man of the Secret Service, is attempting to make contact with underworld counterfeiters in Arizona. He meets two characters in a tavern and a fight ensues, in which he uses his fists to dispose of the two, called Moose and Burps.

VI
Porque the Egg was plying his trade outside the gate of Arizona Downs, offering for sale to the glibble slips of paper stating somebody's guess as to the winners of today's races.

Porque's eyes widened with welcome as he saw Artemus Baldwin walking toward him from the parking field. He scrambled toward Artemus through the grit underfoot, and one could imagine a wagging tail behind.

"Hi, Mr. Baldwin. You remember me, huh?"
Artemus was brusque, as befitted one in a loftier echelon. "So what?" he demanded inclemently.

It was what Porque had expected. If the reply had been more courteous he would have been disappointed. The great man had spoken to him. It had not been a brushoff.

Thus encouraged he sidled closer to Artemus. "Look," he said confidentially, "you made talk."

"I make talk," Artemus said thinly.

"After last night," Porque said, the light of hero worship in his eyes, "if word goes out I'm on your team—maybe not on the team, Mr. Baldwin, but maybe just bat boy—nobody dast bother me."

Artemus studied Porque with cold, calculating eyes. Maybe Porque was smarter than he seemed; maybe he was being panned; "If I let you shag balls for me," he said in a moment, "what value do I get?"

stared at him blankly, which pleased him a tribute to his impersonation.

There was a slight pause while Jick continued to study him; then she made up her mind. "Won't you join us?" she asked. "There's an extra seat."

"Happy to do so," Artemus said.

Jick performed introductions of the other young women. "You've met Mr. Bayside," she said. "Sit here," she indicated a chair. "Tell me, Mr. Baldwin, have you had any more adventures? I mean like finding bodies with their mouths stuffed with money?"

"None," he answered.

"Now bad. I hoped you were one of those people."

"What people?"

"That shocking things always are happening to." Then, without pause, "Why do you dress so uncomfortably?" He was to discover that she was devastatingly frank both in her questions and her observations.

"This suit cost—"

"Don't tell me!" she commanded. "Do you like music?"

"Yes."

"I bet record gobblers," she said. "I was thinking about a soprano that always sings sharp. No pitch. Again she was devastatingly frank. "You are like that, Mr. Baldwin. Not your voice. I mean everything—off-kilter. You sharp everything." Her voice was a crisp monotone without inflection. He found it oddly attractive. She ran on, "Robespierre said to a man that he despised, 'Walker Bayside, and the world would fight to the death to defend his right to say it.'"

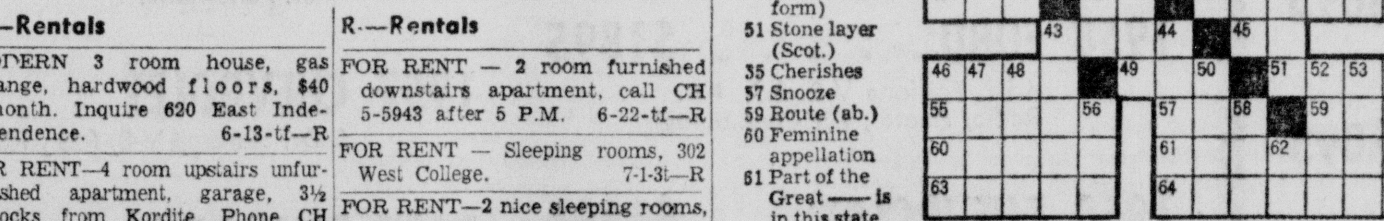

The change of topic jolted Artemus. "Voltaire," he corrected instinctively.

"Tag," she said promptly.

"What do you mean—tag?" he demanded.

"I caught you off base," she replied. "That kind of a suit wouldn't know Voltaire from Confucius. I detest your suit, but I will fight to the death to defend your right to wear it."
